

Foreign Policy Next On Agenda Of Nixon, Aides

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon, bolstered by reports that inflation is cooling down, turned his attention today to foreign policy.

He called in Secretary of State William P. Rogers, assistant secretary Henry A. Kissinger and Joseph Sisco, assistant secretary of state for Middle East affairs, for a White House meeting.

Their talks came at about the same time the first formal Middle East peace talks began at U.N. Headquarters in New York.

From Secretary Rogers, Kissinger said the President planned to review the whole range of foreign policy and to sign down any special signals.

Once to the gathering, all three officials were on hand Monday to join Nixon in greeting 40 new executives from 15 Western states who received a foreign policy briefing and a luncheon dinner at Nixon's country home here.

Public Party

Another private party was scheduled this evening for 120 California Republican candidates and their spouses. They are campaigning for offices ranging from state boards and legislatures to Congress.

In work sessions Monday, Nixon concentrated on the state of the nation's economy with a focus on any economic signals and got good news.

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, reported afterwards that Nixon was told his anti-inflation policies are beginning to show results and the economic picture is "quite encouraging."

Living Costs Up Sharply

There is evidence of "demonstration in the price level," with the cost-of-living index rising less rapidly, and interest declining, McCracken said.

The evidence seems to be fairly clear that it has been possible to cool off a highly overheated domestic economy without throwing the economy into a very sharp recession or depression," he said.

Arson Suspected In Ypsilanti Fire

YPSILANTI (AP) — Arson is suspected in at least one of the three fires which did an estimated $2.5-million damage in Ypsilanti in the last two weeks.

Officials said they suspect arson in the Aug. 11, 1970, fire, which caused an estimated $2.5-million damage, but so far they have been unable to prove it.

One of last Thursday's 15 fires, which caused an estimated $1.5-million damage, was also suspected to be arson, officials said.

Officials said they believe the fires were set in the basement of a four-story office building.

Subversives Blamed In University Blast

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A blast that destroyed a University of Wisconsin military research center, killed a physics student and injured several others, was blamed on subversive groups.

Police Inspector Herman Thomas said it was likely that "subversive organizations" were responsible. He said police knew of Madison elements "potentially capable of doing this."

Applicants said they focused on anonymous telephone warnings of an explosion moments before the blast. There was time to shut school doors, Thomas said, but not to shut white vans.

A university engineer said damage may exceed $5 million. The FBI and military intelligence took over the investigation. A spokesman for Gov. Warren P. Hearnes said the two agencies would coordinate the probe because of the center's extensive use of federal funds.

The program's explosion Monday prompted demands for increased security patrols at the campus, where destructive student demonstrations have forced officials to call for National Guard reinforcements three times since February 1969.

Mideast Confab Begins; Jarring Represents UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Arab-Israeli peace talks started here today under U.N. auspices and the Israeli delegate said he thought peace was possible if the Arabs really wanted it.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tsholuh spoke to newsmen after a 45-minute meeting with Gunnar V. Jarring, U.N. special representative for the Middle East.

His meeting was the opener of a new round of Middle East talks to which Israel, Jordan and Egypt agreed in accepting a U.S. peace proposal.

State Department Spokesman said Tsholuh told reporters he had informed Jarring of "the basic principles of Israel's position."

He said he would meet him again later today and would return to Jerusalem for consultations this evening.

"I don't think it would be useful to enter into details of our discussions," Tsholuh added.

"But as you know, the objective of these discussions which we have commenced here with Ambassador Jarring is the establishment of a just and lasting peace between Israel and Egypt, Israel and Jordan."

Problem Noted

"All of us realize that to conclude a peace after a conflict which has lasted for 22 years will require the solution of many difficult problems."

"However, if the Arab governments prove desirous of obtaining genuine peace with Israel, we are confident that this will be possible."

Tsholuh added that he would feel much better about the prospects "were it not for new about continuous violations of the cease-fire by Egypt."

Jarring has been trying for nearly three years to nudge the Arabs and Israelis toward a peace agreement. He is following his regular procedure of talking to one government and then another. The Arabs refuse to negotiate face-to-face with the Israelis.

Both Optimistic

Both Jarring and Secretary-General U Thant were optimistic. Thant, arriving after Tsholuh, said: "I am continually optimistic over prospects for peace, in fact more optimistic than at any other time since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war."

He has no direct role in the current talks.

South Korean Demands Placed Before Agnew

SEOUL (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew conferred for nearly six hours today with South Korean President Chung Il-Kwon about the troop withdrawal the United States wants to make from Korea and the U.S. aid. Park wants to effect the reduction in American forces.

Talks Go Well

Agnew said the talks went "very well," but they lasted for beyond the two hours that had been scheduled. The vice president said he expected to resume his discussion with the South Korean leader at dinner tonight.

Agnew announced on his arrival Monday that the United States will provide South Korea with additional military aid to modernize its armed forces. No details are expected until after an American study of South Korea's military needs and talks between technical personnel of the two governments.

Seek $5 Billion Program

American sources say the Koreans are seeking a $5 billion, five-year program, more than four times the $140 million a year currently being provided.

Korean sources have indicated Park would demand concrete assurances of U.S. aid before dropping objections to Washington's plans to withdraw 20,000 of the 60,000 U.S. troops in Korea.

Agnew's lengthy session with Park indicated the South Korean president and his aides laid out in considerable detail their contention that the U.S. withdrawal, part of the worldwide reduction of U.S. forces, could leave this staunch American ally open to a new invasion from Communist North Korea.

Housing Aide Raps School Segregation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government endorsement of housing discrimination during the first half of the century is to blame, for segregation in Northern schools, a congressional committee was told today.

Sixteen years after the Supreme Court ordered an end to separate but equal schools for blacks and whites, there are more segregated schools in the North than ever before, said Robert L. Carter, president of the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing.

"While white America has talked of integrated schools and residential areas, its practices have fostered segregation," Carter said.

The committee was prepared for the Senate Equal Housing Opportunity Committee, which is exploring the status of integration and problems in achieving it.

Five decades ago, when blacks began migrating to Northern cities and whites began moving to the suburbs, Carter said, private realtors, builders and lenders did much to prevent blacks from moving out of what soon became ghettos.

But he blamed local, state and federal housing programs and pre-1968 court actions enforcing racially restrictive covenants as having "by far the most significant influence on the intensification of residential segregation outside the South."

The courts outlawed such discriminatory real estate deals in 1949.

Prior to 1968, the Federal Housing Administration required racial restrictions in deeds, openly advocated housing segregation and endorsed practices aimed at preventing blacks from moving out of ghettos, Carter said.

After 1968, the FHA stopped endorsing racial restrictions in deeds, but Carter said it continued to encourage

2 Tate Murder Victims Under Drugs, Report

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two victims in the Sharon Tate murders were under the influence of a hallucinogenic drug similar to LSD when they were stabbed to death, the coroner says.

The two-victim heiress Abigail Folger and Polish playboy Wojciech Frykowski had taken the drug MDA, autopsy reports showed. But their wounds indicated they put up a violent struggle against their killers.

Coroner Thomas T. Noguchi, testifying as a state witness, discussed the autopsy findings Monday at the murder-conspiracy trial of Charles M. Manson, 35, hippie-type cult leader, and three girl followers—Susan Atkins, 25, Patricia Krenwinkel, 28 and Leslie Van Houten, 28.

Miss Folger and Frykowski were houseguests at Miss Tate's mansion the night of Aug. 9, 1969, and were slain along with the pregnant actress, her 6-year-old son Jay, and Steven Parent, a friend of the group.

Noguchi said Miss Folger, who shared a bedroom at the Tate home with Frykowski, had 2.4 milligrams of MDA in her blood and a .45 per cent alcohol level, he said, had 3 milligrams of MDA.

A narcotics officer said outside court that 2.4 milligrams of MDA probably would put a person fully under its influence. He said the drug often causes hallucinations similar to the effects of LSD.

Inflation Cooling

Foreign Policy Next On Agenda Of Nixon, Aides

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon, bolstered by reports that inflation is cooling down, turned his attention today to hotspots of foreign policy from Vietnam to the Middle East.

He called in Secretary of State William P. Rogers, national security adviser Henry A. Kissinger and Joseph Sisco, assistant secretary of state for Middle East affairs, for a Western White House meeting.

Policy Review Set
Their talks come at about the same time the first formal Middle East peace talks begin at U.N. headquarters in New York.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the President planned to review the whole range of foreign policy and he played down any special significance to the gathering.

All three officials were on hand Monday to join Nixon in greeting 48 news executives from 13 Western states who received a foreign policy briefing and a Mexican luncheon served around the swimming pool at Nixon's oceanside home here.

Poolside Party
Another poolside party was scheduled this evening for 125 California Republican candidates and their spouses. They are campaigning for offices ranging from state boards and legislature to Congress.

In work sessions Monday, Nixon concentrated on the state of the nation's economy with a foursome of key economic officials and got good news.

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, reported afterwards that Nixon was told his anti-inflation policies are beginning to show results and the economic picture is "quite encouraging."

Living Costs Up Slightly
There is evidence of "deacceleration in the price level," with the cost-of-living index rising less rapidly, and interest declining, McCracken said.

"The evidence seems to be fairly clear that it has been possible to cool off a highly overheated domestic economy without throwing the economy into a very sharp recession or depression," he said.

Arson Suspected In Ypsilanti Fire

YPSILANTI (AP) — Arson is suspected in at least one of the three fires which did an estimated $3.5-million damage in Ypsilanti in the last two weeks.

Officials said they suspect arson in the Aug. 11 Masonic Temple fire which caused an estimated $500,000 damage, but so far they have been unable to prove it.

Cause of last Thursday's $2-million blaze which damaged five stores in downtown Ypsilanti still is undetermined and the cause temporarily has been listed as accidental.

Saturday's $1-million fire in four other stores has been listed as accidental. Officials said they believed it started in wiring in the basement.

Cut-Rate Autos Out For Many Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee has forbidden future cut-rate automobile leasing deals that put some senators behind the wheels of Lincoln Continentals for $750 a year.

In issuing the ruling as an advisory recommendation, the panel did not say which senators had accepted the low-cost leases from automobile manufacturers seeking to promote their cars by having celebrities drive them.

It said only that "certain senators and a Senate officer personally have leased an automobile from an automobile manufacturing company under special and favorable terms."

Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Ethics Committee, reported its findings to the Senate Monday, declaring the practice should end with the current set of leases, if not before.

Not Work Of Amateurs

Subversives Blamed In University Blast

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A blast that destroyed a University of Wisconsin military research center, killed a physics scholar and injured several other persons apparently was the work of subversives using an explosives-laden truck investigators say.

Frank Roberts, deputy state fire marshal, said the explosion had "unbelievable power. This is no kid stuff."

A university engineer said damage may exceed $6 million.

The FBI and military intelligence took over the investigation. A spokesman for Gov. Warren P. Knowles said the two agencies would coordinate the probe because of the center's extensive use of federal funds.

The pre-dawn explosion Monday prompted demands for increased security patrols at the campus, where destructive student demonstrations have forced officials to call for National Guard reinforcements three times since February 1969.

Police inspector Herman Thomas said it was likely that "subversive organizations" were responsible. He said police know of Madison elements "potentially capable of doing this."

Authorities said they received an anonymous telephone warning of an explosion moments before the blast. There was no time to alert Robert E. Fassnacht, 33, who died while working on a physics research project.

Investigators said the blast was caused by explosives in a truck parked beside the six-story Army Mathematics Research Center, a frequent target for anti-war demonstrators. The truck had been reported stolen Aug. 20 from a campus parking lot.

The blast shattered windows on all floors of a nearby hospital, and windows of buildings in the state Capitol neighborhood a mile away. Hours later, a portion of a blast-shaken auditorium ceiling in another building collapsed without injury to 300 bankers attending a seminar.

Regent James W. Nellen of DePere was among officials demanding increased security patrols because of the history of vandalism during demonstrations on the 33,000-student campus. Earlier this year firebombings damaged ROTC quarters and other offices with military affiliation.

Nellen said legislators, who have been angered by student outbursts, probably would insist that money for more patrols "be taken from academic programs."

There was temporary worry about radioactive equipment lost in the center's debris. But officials said the items were found intact, and physics Prof. Blanchard Converse said there was "no cause for radiation concern."

Mideast Confab Begins; Jarring Represents UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Arab-Israeli peace talks started here today under U.N. auspices and the Israeli delegate said he thought peace was possible if the Arabs really wanted it.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekoah spoke to newsmen after a 45-minute meeting with Gunnar V. Jarring, U.N. special representative for the Middle East.

Their meeting was the opener of a new round of Middle East talks to which Israel, Jordan and Egypt agreed in accepting a U.S. peace proposal.

South Korean Demands Placed Before Agnew

SEOUL (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew conferred for nearly six hours today with South Korean President Chung Hee Park about the troop withdrawals the United States wants to make from Korea and the U.S. aid Park wants to offset the reduction in American forces.

Talks Go Well

Agnew said the talks went "very well," but they lasted far beyond the two hours that had been scheduled. The vice president said he expected to resume his discussion with the South Korean leader at dinner tonight.

Agnew announced on his arrival Monday that the United States will provide South Korea with additional military aid to modernize its armed forces. No details are expected until after an American study of South Korea's military needs and talks between technical personnel of the two governments.

Seek $3 Billion Program

American sources say the Koreans are seeking a $3 billion, five-year program, more than four times the $140 million a year currently being provided.

Korean sources have indicated Park would demand concrete assurances of U.S. aid before dropping objections to Washington's plans to withdraw 20,000 of the 62,000 U.S. troops in Korea.

Agnew's lengthy session with Park indicated the South Korean president and his aides laid out in considerable detail their contention that the U.S. withdrawals, part of the worldwide reduction of U.S. forces, could leave this staunch American ally open to a new invasion from Communist North Korea.

Disagree With Plan

Korean sources said Park bluntly told Agnew Monday, during the vice president's arrival courtesy call, that he and his officials disagree with the U.S. assessment that another invasion is extremely unlikely and that the South Koreans are strong enough to handle anything with the aid of the American forces that will remain.

U.S. officials say their government will make no specific promises until it analyzes the shopping list Park gives Agnew.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George McGovern today disputed claims that Senate liberals are obstructing the administration's welfare reform bill. But he urged several revisions, including one for full federal control.

The South Dakota Democrat said he would offer amendments to eliminate options for state or county operation of the proposed Family Assistance Plan.

"Full federal administration makes the most sense because only through such unitary control will state by state variations be eliminated," he said in testimony prepared for the Senate Finance Committee.

McGovern, chairman of a special Senate Hunger Committee, noted that "administration spokesmen have repeatedly said that its (FAP's) final passage by Congress is being obstructed by liberals."

Housing Aide Raps School Segregation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government endorsement of housing discrimination during the first half of the century is to blame, for segregation in Northern schools, a congressional committee was told today.

Sixteen years after the Supreme Court ordered an end to separate but equal schools for blacks and whites, there are more segregated classes in the North than ever before, said Robert L. Carter, president of the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing.

"While white America has talked of integrated schools and residential areas, its practices have fostered" segregation, Carter said.

His remarks were prepared for the Senate Equal Educational Opportunity Committee which is exploring the status of integration and problems in achieving it.

Five decades ago, when blacks began migrating to Northern cities and whites began moving to the suburbs, Carter said, private realtors, builders and lenders did much to prevent blacks from moving out of what soon became city ghettos.

But he blamed local, state and federal housing programs and pre-1948 court actions enforcing racially restrictive covenants as having "by far the most significant influence on the intensification of residential segregation outside the South."

The courts outlawed such discriminatory real estate deeds in 1948.

"Prior to 1950, the Federal Housing Administration required racial restrictions in deeds, openly advocated housing segregation and enforced practices aimed at producing—separate black and white residential areas," Carter said.

After 1950, the FHA adopted modified rules but never implemented them, he said.

Uniformed GI Fools Jet Pilot In Hijacking

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A Trans World Airlines jetliner, hijacked to Cuba by a husky young man who wore an Army uniform and "fooled the pilot," landed safely early today at Philadelphia International Airport.

The Boeing 727 touched down at 4:53 a.m., 9½ hours after it was originally scheduled to arrive Monday at 7:33 p.m. on a flight from Las Vegas.

The hijacker, who boarded the plane on a military half fare ticket, left the plane at Havana. The other 79 passengers and a crew of six returned to Philadelphia after a stop in Miami. Two FBI agents also returned with the plane from Miami.

FBI agent Oliver Revell said the passenger manifest identified the hijacker as Robert J. Labadie.

The pilot said the man showed him a military identification card with the same name on it.

The hijacker, riding in the first class section of the Philadelphia-bound flight told a stewardess to order the pilot of TWA flight 134 to Cuba or he would signal a friend in the coach section to set off a bomb.

The hijacker, described as in his late 20s, boarded the flight in Chicago. He took over as the plane passed Fort Wayne, Ind., and allowed it to land in Pittsburgh to refuel before making the hop to Havana.

The plane returned to Miami at 1:36 a.m. today where FBI agents and Army intelligence officers questioned the pilot, Capt. Warren George of New York City.

Quits Chairman's Job

Walter Harnischfeger Monday announced his resignation as chairman of the board of the Harnischfeger Corp., a post to which he was elected in 1969 after having served since 1951 as company president.

Harnischfeger, 74, will remain as a director of the corporation. He said he was relinquishing the chairmanship "in order to permit the alignment of the policy making and the administration of the company's operations under the leadership of the chief executive."

Expected to succeed him was Henry Harnischfeger, 47, who will continue as president and chief executive officer.

Walter Harnischfeger joined the company in 1911 as a 16-year-old apprentice. After serving several years in the shop, engineering, estimating and service departments, he became a salesman and began a series of assignments requiring extensive travel throughout the United States and abroad. It was during this period that he developed lasting interest in world affairs, particularly in the United States Foreign Aid Program.

President in 1969 Following the death of his father in 1964, he became president of the company.

An internationally known figure, Walter Harnischfeger has served on the board of directors of some 35 major organizations including the American Institute of Foreign Trade, Boys Club of America, American Red Cross - Milwaukee Chapter, Citizens Foreign Aid Committee, and the Milwaukee School of Engineering. He is also a former director of the Wisconsin Manufacturers Association.

Henry Harnischfeger was elected president of the company in 1969, succeeding his father, Walter, who was then named chairman of the board.

ments have "the firm intention of finding a solution."

"I hope that with good will and understanding they will in time reach agreement on a just and lasting peace," he said.

U. N. Secretary-General U Thant expressed "cautious optimism."

Jarring was meeting today with Israel's chief delegate to the United Nations, Yosef Teohach; Jordan's ambassador to the United States, Abdul Hamid Sharaf; and Egypt's chief U.N. delegate, Mohammed Hassan El Zayrat.

Sharaf was filling in for Muhammad H. El Fara, Jordan's chief U.N. delegate, who is in Amman for consultations.

When Representative Teohach was sitting in for Foreign Minister Abba Eban, who was named Sunday as Israel's representative at the negotiations, Israel wanted the talks held at the foreign minister's level but made a concession to the Arabs by appointing Teohach as Eban's alternate and giving him the go-ahead to start negotiating.

Israel said it still hoped the talks could be upgraded, however, and Jarring said he also hoped they "will be elevated to the foreign minister's level." Eban and the Egyptian and Jordanian foreign ministers, Mahmud Riad and Aslan Attala, are all scheduled to come to New York for the U.N. General Assembly opening Sept. 25, and Jarring pointed out that when a foreign minister arrives, he supersedes a chief delegate "institutionally."

Phase Of Peace Plan The indirect talks are the second phase of the peace plan advanced by the United States on June 23 and agreed to by Egypt, Jordan and Israel. The first phase, the 50-day ceasefire, went into effect at midnight Aug. 7.

Jarring's mission is to promote implementation of the U.N. Security Council's resolution of Nov. 22, 1967, which set forth broad guidelines for settling the June 1967 Middle East war. Among other things, it called for Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab territory.

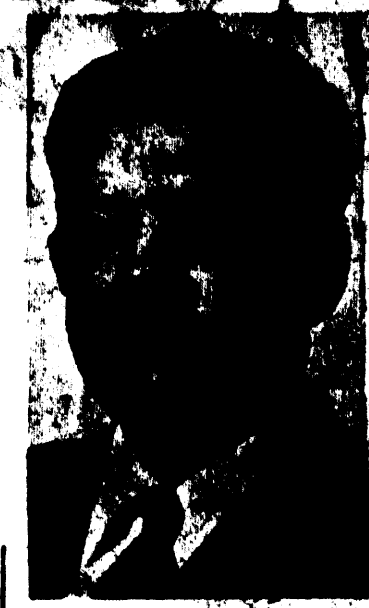

Asked what his own guidelines will be, Jarring replied: "In solving a problem of this kind, I don't think there are textbooks written how you behave, how you proceed. I think you have to feel your way through."

Jarring last took a hand in the Middle East situation last September, when he met with the Israeli, Egyptian, Jordanian and Lebanese foreign ministers at the 1969 General Assembly. There was no indication of any progress. Meanwhile the United States and the Soviet Union were trying to find a basis on which to get peace negotiations started. The U.S. proposal for a ceasefire and resumption of indirect negotiations was the result.

Charges Exchanged As their representatives prepared for the talks, Israel and Egypt exchanged charges of cease-fire violations Monday.

Egyptian Information Minister Mohammed Hassan El-Hakel charged that the Israelis are building new fortifications and roads along the Suez Canal. It was Egypt's first charge of cease-fire violation.

Israel told U.N. truce observers that Egypt is holding 12 prisoners of war and is violating the cease-fire by not letting the International Red Cross visit them, refusing to let them write letters and refusing to repatriate the wounded. Israel's previous charges of cease-fire violations accused the Egyptians of setting up anti-aircraft missiles close to the Suez Canal.

Ordinance To Stop Rock Festivals Set

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Gov. William Milliken unveiled a proposed local ordinance Monday that he said "will cause a prospective promoter to think twice before staging another Goose Lake."

The ordinance was unveiled at a recent rock festival held in an evaluation of official protests. The governor gave the proposed model ordinance to a gathering of local officials concerned about regulating and controlling such events as rock festivals.

Paul Book Artist Cited He said subsequent to the ordinance would "prohibit the fly-by-night promoter or fast-buck artist from moving into your area, making a financial killing and then moving on, leaving havoc, disturbance of the peace, property damage and ruined young lives in his wake."

"More importantly, to this end, it will give each local unit the final say in whether to permit or refuse a festival within its boundaries by specifically spelling out for them in a uniform manner the standards, guidelines and requirements to be met by the promoter in making application for a license to conduct a festival," the governor said.

Court Plan Feels Officials from Jackson County, site of the privately owned Goose Lake Park, had gone to court to try and stop the festival, but their attempt failed. After the festival, however, Jackson County Circuit Judge John Dalton ordered the park closed, pending a hearing on allegations of illegal activities that reportedly took place there.

Park owner Richard Burger said he would fight the suit aimed at halting a second proposed rock festival during one day of the coming Labor Day weekend.

Drug Sales Condemned After the early August rock festival, Milliken condemned open drug sales at Goose Lake Park, but contended he was not opposed to rock festivals, if they did not include narcotics.

The ordinance, he said, "is not designed to block or prevent rock festivals. It is designed to provide every possible guarantee that such events, if held, will be held in such a manner that the public interest is safeguarded — that the health, safety and welfare of all our citizens."

They are Gary Abrahamson, 2701 5th Ave. S., and Michael Blom, 512 S. 6th St.

Menominee County authorities said the warrants were issued by Judge Brown on information from Robert Revell of Iron Mountain, parole and probation officer for the court. The two young men are represented by Attorney Steven Barstow of Menominee.

"I hope that with good will and understanding they will in time reach agreement on a just and lasting peace," he said.

Cautious Optimism

U. N. Secretary-General U Thant expressed "cautious optimism."

Jarring was meeting today with Israel's chief delegate to the United Nations, Yosef Tekoah; Jordan's ambassador to the United States, Abdul Hamid Sharaf, and Egypt's chief U.N. delegate, Mohammed Hassan El Zayyat.

Sharaf was filling in for Muhammad H. El Farra, Jordan's chief U.N. delegate, who is in Amman for consultations.

Eban Representative

Tekoah was sitting in for Foreign Minister Abba Eban, who was named Sunday as Israel's representative at the negotiations. Israel wanted the talks held at the foreign minister's level but made a concession to the Arabs by appointing Tekoah as Eban's alternate and giving him the go-ahead to start negotiating.

Israel said it still hoped the talks could be upgraded, however, and Jarring said he also hoped they "will be elevated to the foreign minister's level." Phase Of Peace Plan

The indirect talks are the second phase of the peace plan advanced by the United States on June 19 and agreed to by Egypt, Jordan and Israel. The first phase, the 90-day cease-fire, went into effect at midnight Aug. 7.

Jarring's mission is to promote implementation of the U.N. Security Council's resolution of Nov. 22, 1967, which set forth broad guidelines for settling the June 1967 Middle East war. Among other things, it called for Israeli withdrawal from occupied Arab territory.

No Set Guidelines

Asked what his own guidelines will be, Jarring replied: "In solving a problem of this kind, I don't think there are textbooks written how you behave, how you proceed. I think you have to feel your way through."

Jarring last took a hand in the Middle East situation last September, when he met with the Israeli, Egyptian, Jordanian and Lebanese foreign ministers at the 1969 General Assembly. There was no indication of any progress. Meanwhile the United States and the Soviet Union were trying to find a basis on which to get peace negotiations started. The U.S. proposal for a cease-fire and resumption of indirect negotiations was the result.

Charges Exchanged

As their representatives prepared for the talks, Israel and Egypt exchanged charges of cease-fire violations Monday.

Egyptian Information Minister Mohammed Hassanein Heikal charged that the Israelis are building new fortifications and roads along the Suez Canal. It was Egypt's first charge of cease-fire violation.

Israel told U.N. truce observers that Egypt is holding 12 prisoners of war and is violating the cease-fire by not letting the International Red Cross visit them, refusing to let them write letters and refusing to repatriate the wounded. Israel's previous charges of cease-fire violations accused the Egyptians of setting up anti-aircraft missiles close to the Suez Canal.

Ordinance To Stop Rock Festivals Set

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Gov. William Milliken unveiled a proposed local ordinance Monday that he said "will cause a prospective promoter to think twice before staging another Goose Lake," where drug sales at a recent rock festival led to an avalanche of official protests.

The governor gave the proposed model ordinance to a gathering of local officials concerned about regulating and controlling such events as rock festivals.

The application would include requirements for evidence of planning to provide for police and fire protection, health and sanitation, food and water, medical facilities and their necessities.

The ordinance spells out the procedure to be followed in evaluating the application and specifies the grounds for denial of the license.

The proposal also sets criminal penalties and civil causes of action resulting from violations of the ordinance.

most particularly our younger citizens, is protected," Milliken said.

Procedures Outlined

The proposed ordinance, drafted by Milliken's legal adviser, Joseph Thibodeau, and officials from the attorney general's office as well as the Public Health Department, outlines procedures to be followed in applying to local officials for a license to hold a large assembly such as a rock festival.

Fast Buck Artist Cited

He said safeguards in the ordinance would "preclude the fly-by-night promoter or fast-buck artist from moving into your area, making a financial killing and then moving on, leaving havoc, disturbance of the peace, property damage and ruined young lives in his wake."

"More importantly, to this end, it will give each local unit the final say in whether to permit or refuse a festival within its boundaries by specifically spelling out for them in a uniform manner the standards, guidelines and requirements to be met by the promoter in making application for a license to conduct a festival," the governor said.

Court Plan Fails

Officials from Jackson County, site of the privately owned Goose Lake Park, had gone to court to try and stop the festival, but their attempts failed.

After the festival, however, Jackson County Circuit Judge John Dalton ordered the park closed, pending a hearing on allegations of illegal activities that reportedly took place there.

Park owner Richard Songer said he would fight the suit aimed at halting a second proposed rock festival during one day of the coming Labor Day weekend.

Drug Sales Condemned

After the early August rock festival, Milliken condemned open drug sales at Goose Lake Park, but contended he was not opposed to rock festivals, if they did not include narcotics.

The ordinance, he said, "is not designed to block or prevent rock festivals. It is designed to provide every possible guarantee that such events, if held, will be held in such a manner that the public interest is safeguarded — that the health, safety and welfare of all our citizens."

Inquest Called By Prosecutor In Man's Death

Prosecuting Attorney John Beauchamp today requested a District Court inquest into the July 6 death of a 68-year-old Gladstone man.

Beauchamp said the investigation by his office and the Gladstone Police Dept. into the death of Orrie E. Switzer, 611 N. 16th St., Gladstone has been completed and that based on all of the facts available to him he is "unable to positively conclude that a crime was committed" and he has requested District Judge Dean Shipman to call a panel of jurors to conduct an inquest.

No date has been set for the inquest.

Mr. Switzer, a former employee of the Soo Line Railroad Co., died at 12:30 p.m. Monday, July 6, at St. Francis Hospital where he was taken by ambulance July 4 suffering from a knife wound in his side.

Found By Daughter

Authorities were notified when a Gladstone physician stopped at the State Police post and requested an ambulance. Shortly before, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Ludtke of Kipling stopped at the Switzer home to visit her parents, Beauchamp reported. She is the former Michelle Switzer.

Mr. Switzer, in an upstairs bedroom, called for a drink of water, according to the prosecutor's July report. Mrs. Ludtke went upstairs and found her father bleeding from a wound in his side and summoned a doctor. Mrs. Switzer was in a downstairs bedroom, Beauchamp reported.

To Present Evidence

Beauchamp said at the inquest—a procedure authorized under Michigan law in cases of apparent death from unnatural causes—all of the available evidence will be presented to the jurors.

The evidence will include an autopsy report, Beauchamp said.

The jurors will be given the responsibility of determining whether or not a crime has been committed and also if there is probable cause to charge anyone with a crime.

This is not a criminal proceeding, Beauchamp emphasized.

"We're simply submitting evidence," he said.

A panel of six persons will be drawn by District Court to hear the evidence in the case.

U.P. Future

Gov. William Milliken spoke about the future of the Upper Peninsula last week when he was in Escanaba for Governor's Day of the Upper Peninsula State Fair and his views parallel those of many U. P. residents.

There are a great many problem areas, the governor pointed out — highways, housing, industrial development, tourism promotion, etc. — but the Upper Peninsula has the unmistakable advantage of its natural resources.

"Despite the enormous problems, I am optimistic," the Governor said. "The greatest advantage of the Upper Peninsula is the quality of its life — the spectacular beauty, the recreational opportunities, the thousands of square miles of unspoiled nature. The changing values in society are working in favor of the Upper Peninsula. Young people are too aware of the problems of city life to jump at the chance to move to the city without seriously considering the advantages of staying here."

"We want these young people to stay here," Milliken continued. "Many of them want to stay. But they need jobs — not just jobs at the bottom of the economic ladder, but jobs with a future. Providing these jobs is our most important task."

In a nutshell, Gov. Milliken has put his finger on an Upper Peninsula dilemma.

Preliminary census figures for 1970, for example, indicate that the Upper Peninsula population has declined in the past 10 years where that of the rest of Michigan has increased. At least part of that decline is attributable to out-migration. Young people are unable to find acceptable employment in the U. P., so they leave for other communities in Lower Michigan or other states. The situation shows a great need for economic development to provide the jobs necessary.

On the other hand, economic development is often viewed as industrial growth. And in industry — both through its own waste products and in the increased population that industrial development generates — potentially there is a pollution problem. Over population and pollution is driving people out of the cities in search of something better elsewhere and if the U. P. loses its resources that "something better" would be missing.

Hopefully, the Upper Peninsula can have both natural resources and growth.

Within the past year there have been at least two instances where apparent conflicts were resolved — expansion of Upper Peninsula Power Co. at Marquette and the expansion by Mead Corp. of the Escanaba Paper Co. In both cases, environmental protection groups leaped into action. The Save Our Shoreline group at Marquette opposed the proposed power plant site. The Save Our Air committees in Delta County opposed Mead's pulp mill.

Largely as a result of the environmental action groups, the power plant site in Marquette County has been changed from Little Presque Isle and very strict air pollution stipulations were written into the pulp mill construction permit for Mead issued by the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission. The company is spending $10 million overall to control pollution.

Some purists will insist that it is impossible for an area to develop and still preserve its natural resources in an unspoiled state. The plans of U. P. Power Co. and the Mead Corp indicate that it can be done.

It's this type of public watch-dogging and corporate cooperation that's needed in the future if the U. P. is to grow without losing the environmental purity that each day becomes more and more valuable.

Bully On A Bus

Bus driver Hawkins noticed that one of his passengers, obviously drunk, was getting belligerent toward a young woman. Hoping things would calm down, Hawkins did not interfere.

But things did not calm down. On the contrary, the man climaxed his outburst by giving the woman a vicious kick in the shins.

In due course, she filed a damage suit against the bus company. And a court ruled that the company was indeed liable. The judge said Hawkins had failed to live up to his legal responsibilities as the "man in charge" of the bus.

As a rule, a bus driver has the duty to do some basic policing of his vehicle. When one passenger menaces another, the driver cannot take refuge in the role of a neutral bystander.

In fact, he may have to take affirmative action not only against grown-up bullies but also against youthful rascals. In another case several teenagers, armed with rubber bands, began firing paper clips around the interior of their school bus.

Again, the driver followed a hands-off policy. But when a girl was struck in the eye and injured, the bus company was held liable in court. The judge said the driver had an affirmative duty to halt this dangerous game.

Nevertheless, since he is not really a policeman, he does not have to go out of his way to search for trouble. Thus:

An intoxicated passenger jabbed a large pin into another man's hip. The indignant victim later demanded damages from the bus company, pointing out that his attacker had been quarrelsome and profane even before thrusting the pin.

But it also appeared that the fellow had been sitting far back in the bus, and that the driver had simply not been aware of his misbehavior. Accordingly, the court found no grounds for placing blame upon the driver.

"His primary duty," said the judge, "is to give his full attention to the operation of the bus. If he concentrates upon this all-important duty, he cannot give attention to the actions of the passengers unless so unusual as to demand it."

THIEF IN THE NIGHT

Will Attitudes Stiffen At Nation's Colleges?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

A great deal of this coming autumn will depend on the campuses: if they "blow," it should make for a really conservative year at the November polls.

The politicians, however, cannot really count on a "worse-the-better" situation. Maybe we shall have a calm October. One detects a stiffening at the moment on the part of the authorities.

At Stanford University, in California, where student unrest has been rumbling for a long time, there is a summer upsurge of toughness. Diarmund R. McGuire, a 28-year-old former Stanford graduate student who returned to his alma mater to take part in anti-ROTC demonstrations in the spring, has been found guilty by a jury on charges of malicious mischief. One of the counts against McGuire, who had been the editor of a radical newspaper, The Plain Rapper, was lamp breaking in front of the building that houses the ROTC.

The issue might seem petty, but the interesting thing is that Stanford students volunteered to act as witnesses for the prosecution. Ray White and Roger Reed, members of the Free Campus Movement, a conservative group, came through with the testimony that caused the jury to crack down on McGuire.

Thus, while an advisory committee headed by Chancellor Alexander Heard of Vanderbilt University has been trying to shift the burden for pacifying the campuses to the White House itself, conservative students at Stanford have been taking matters into their own hands. The Stanford Free Campus Movement agrees with President Nixon that it is up to the local supporters of law and order to stop the vandalism that has become almost a curricular requirement at so many of our schools.

At Little Rock College in Illinois, which is headed by President John A. Howard, an adviser to Nixon on academic finance, vandalism reached an all-time high during the 1969-70 semesters. The Honor System, which had hitherto worked with some effectiveness, seemed to be breaking down.

President Howard and the Rockford trustees have hopes that the Honor System can be rescued from its state of "erosion," but they aren't taking any chances.

For the coming year an Administrative Disciplinary Committee, appointed by the president, will take action on disciplinary problems, and when a violation involves a breach of public law, "probation, suspension or dismissal from the college" will follow.

The Scranton Committee in Washington, investigating the background of the Kent State University rioting and deaths, gave preferred time to Leftist characters who did their best to put all the blame for campus unrest on Vice President Agnew's rhetoric. And when the committee shifted its hearings to Los Angeles, it featured the testimony of Dr. Richard Glacks, a University of California at Santa Barbara professor of sociology who had been a founder of Students for a Democratic Society.

In letting the Left get its testimonial innings in first, the Scranton Committee tacitly cooperated with the anti-Agnew forces, for it is fully understood by all experts on the subject that it is the early testimony that commands the headlines. (The big thing is to catch the afternoon papers.)

True enough, the Scranton Committee did listen to the sober statements of Professor Sidney Hook, president of the University Centers for Rational Alternatives, and Bill Scranton paid Dr. Hook the compliment of saying that he had come up with the first practical proposal for a strategy to limit campus violence. But somehow Dr. Hook's testimony didn't make any headlines. The timing was off.

Dr. Hook bore down on "administrative cowardice" and "administrative connivance" with the student demonstrators. He proposed that the colleges set up representative assemblies of faculties, students and administrators to draft principles governing the expression of dissent.

In case of forcible disregard of a code of behavior, violators would be subject to prompt punishment. And should the universities prove unable to enforce their own codes, courts would be asked to step in with injunctive relief. Police action would follow in the event that injunctions are disobeyed.

After commending Hook, Scranton can hardly ignore him in the final committee wrap-up. So we may be saved after all from another fiasco such as the one perpetrated by the Kerner Committee, which idiotically blamed ghetto riots on every-one save the rioters themselves. Sidney Hook will have his effect on the campus scene, but why, oh, way must it take so long?

Is The Small Investor Being Eliminated From Market?

By JOHN CUNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — Sooner or later America's securities market must directly confront the issue of public versus private interest, and if the present trends continue, that confrontation is not long off.

The marketplace is changing — an American Stock Exchange official calls it "galloping transition" — with perhaps the chief catalyst being the enormous growth of institutions during the 1960s.

Institutions Favored

That is where much of the nation's investment money is going — into institutions — and that is where the securities industry quite understandably is exerting its greatest sales effort — at the institutions.

Meanwhile, as the industry attempts to accommodate the multimillion dollar trusts and funds, relatively less is done to assure the individual investor an opportunity to participate directly in corporate securities.

"It troubles me," said Ralph Saul, president of the American Stock Exchange, a few days ago. "I get the feeling that too many people are spending their energy in developing ways for professional institutions to trade than for the small investor."

What About Small Investor? Is the small investor threatened with elimination from the market because of economic conditions, specifically the cost of handling his orders, or is the threat there because policy calls for seeking only the big business?

Saul wonders about the answer to that question. "I don't think we have evaluated all the issues," he said. "So much of the writing and analysis in this area assumes that the market should adapt itself only to professional investors."

Changes Needed

"I'm not saying we should not adapt," he continued. "Some changes are needed in exchange structures, but these changes must be viewed in relation to policies expressed by Congress that these are public markets."

That, he said, is the issue. The touchstone of regulatory policy is that securities markets should be operated for the public, rather than for specific persons or groups within the public. Is that to be abandoned?

As a former official of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Saul understands the regulatory responsibility. As president of Amex, he must be responsive to pressures from another direction, to brokers seeking to accommodate the big institutions.

"Some brokers say, 'We're adjusting, we're adapting, why

Opening lead—two of clubs. They say that truth is stranger than fiction. Here is a tale to bear this out.

The hand, was played in a rubber bridge game. The stakes were high, the atmosphere tense, and all the players except South were first-rate.

North had been having a hard time all evening, largely because he had cut South as a partner most of the time. So when he heard South open the bidding with a diamond, North cheered up considerably, since he was about to win a rubber at long last. He responded with a jump to two spades.

South now bid two hearts, which was not sufficient. West called attention to the insufficient bid and offered to explain the options that South could now exercise, but South, gazing intently at his score pad, said, "No, it's all right. I bid three diamonds. We have game and forty."

North groaned deeply and said, "For your information, sir, we happen to have game and thirty, and, furthermore, you've now succeeded in barring me from the auction. Can't you even keep score correctly?"

The outcome was that South played the hand at three diamonds, making seven, and of course lost the rubber on the next deal.

Had South corrected his bid to three hearts, there would have been no penalty under the laws and North-South might conceivably have reached a slam and made it.

When North tried to explain this to his partner, South replied, "Well, I've already told you three times I thought we had forty on and I was making a game bid, and besides, I wouldn't dream of bidding three hearts with a four-card suit!"

Aside from what actually occurred, the hand is a curiosity in other respects. Strangely enough, as the cards lie, North-South could have made a grand slam in spades, hearts, diamonds, clubs or notrump. 1

Vasectomy May Be Answer To Problems

Dear Ann Landers: After two children and five miscarriages my husband and I decided I should be sterilized. The doctor explained it was a simple surgical procedure of tying the tubes and he offered to do it. In the course of the consultation Bill asked about sterilization for the male. The doctor described the vasectomy in detail. It sounded so much simpler (and cheaper) than my operation that Bill said he wanted to have it done.

He went to the hospital the following Friday. The surgery took less than 25 minutes. Bill spent the night in the hospital and was back at his job Monday morning. I can't tell you what that operation has done for our marriage. To those men who believe a vasectomy destroys their manliness I would like to say this: It takes a real man to have this operation so his wife won't have to go through surgery. Who cares that he can no longer produce a child? It requires no brains, no courage, and no character to get a woman pregnant. Males prove it every day.

If Paul Ehrlich who wrote "The Population Bomb" is so concerned why doesn't he have a vasectomy? And this goes for all the other he-men who talk about the threat of overpopulation. — St. Louis

Dear S.L. Professor Ehrlich has had a vasectomy, and so have thousands of others. It is becoming a popular operation. Thanks for writing to express how one wife feels about it.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband bought a horse a few weeks ago. Kirk has been wanting his own horse for a long time. We decided not to wait until we could keep the horse on our own place, so the horse is being boarded about a mile from where we live.

A couple we know boards horses at the same place. The man does not ride, but his wife does. I have heard her mention to Kirk at least three times that since I don't ride, and her husband doesn't ride, the two of them ought to go on rides together in the park.

I say she should find some females to ride with and leave my husband alone. This woman has a flirty way about her which could spell trouble. I've considered several alternatives and am asking you to help me decide. Should I play it cool and suggest that while she and Kirk ride, her husband and I will go to the movies or just strolling in the park? Should I get re-interested in horses (I rode when I was younger) and make it a threesome? Or should I put my foot down and say, "Nothing doing." Thanks, Ann. —The Nay-Sayer

Dear Sayer: Be careful where you put your foot down, honey, especially around horses. Your best bet is to get re-interested in riding and make it a threesome.

Dear Ann Landers: My 26-year-old brother has been in one kind of trouble or another all his life. I could write a book about his shenanigans. The last thing he did was sell a rented car and leave the state. He is back now, stone broke, with this car thing hanging over his head. Mom wants us girls to pitch in $500 each and save our brother's skin. My husband says, "Not another dime." My sisters' husbands say the same thing. We are good savers and have a little money set aside for "emergencies." Shall we do as Mom asks? —Teeter-Totter

Dear T.T.: No. Let your brother take his lumps. I'll bet people have been rescuing him all his life which is why he has been in so much trouble. Enough is enough. What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits—the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen - Age Sex—Ten Ways To Cool It." Shades Of The 1930s?

Businessmen 'Selling' Apples In City Streets

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Displaying a streak of off-beat humor over the recent stock market decline, 20 businessmen have sold apples on street corners and stood in soup lines.

The men, who include a bank vice president and an interior decorator, belong to a stock and land investment club.

Club member Andy Schilly estimates the worth of each member's holdings has dropped an average of $5,000 since the stock market began its downward trend.

"In the past, we used to take our wives and hold our annual business meetings in such places as Phoenix, San Francisco and Las Vegas," said Schilly, an IBM salesman. "But this year, we knew we had to economize."

Club members were summoned to the 1970 annual meeting by a singing telegraph messenger, who warbled an invitation to the tune of "We Ain't Got a Barrel of Money."

The 20 men and their wives dined at a Salt Lake mission for indigents, where they ate nickel bowls of soup and drank water. They wore rag-tag clothing.

For the business end of the meeting they went to their stockbrokers office where a list of the organization's stock holdings and prices were read.

"They're still going down," members groaned. Then they threw a dummy labeled "Stockbroker", out the second-story window.

They ended the evening by stationing each couple on a downtown street and peddling apples and other small wares—at inflated 1970 prices—for half an hour.

"It was ridiculous," said Schilly. "We all sold our items within the time allotted, despite the terrible prices. I sold my apples to a policeman for a quarter each, and my wife sold tap dances for a dollar."

An old-time dance marathon wound up the meeting. The bank vice president won first prize—a 1929 Victrola phonograph and several dozen old records.

"We'll keep on investing," said one member. "But now we know we can sell apples and shoelaces if we have to."

Another remarked, "If we didn't laugh like this, we'd probably cry."

No Incidents Reported As Schools Open

By The Associated Press
Rural school districts in the South, many of which have waged long and bitter campaigns against integration, have begun opening for the fall semester with black and white pupils sitting in classrooms together for the first time.

No incidents were reported Monday as scattered districts opened.

Seven South Carolina districts began trying out unitary school systems for the first time. Among them was Orangeburg, where black pupils outnumber whites.

South Carolina school officials hailed the day "quiet."

In neighboring Georgia, several districts integrated for the first time. At Statesville, about 125 of some 600 pupils at Robert County High are Negroes.

Edwards County, like many others in the South, had been operating under a freedom-of-choice plan that brought about little, if any, desegregation.

Many Southern school districts are opening under court-ordered desegregation plans aimed at achieving racial parity and ending token desegregation. In Georgia, 21 districts have integrated desegregation plans in response to Justice Department suits.

Thirty-two other systems are under other court orders in Georgia and the other 10 districts in the state are either in compliance with federal desegregation guidelines or working under plans approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Classes began in four Alabama counties. Two of them, Dallas and Randolph, were under orders to do away with the concept of separate schools for black and white pupils.

Allstate Hikes Insurance Rates

DETROIT (AP) — Allstate, Michigan's third largest insurance insurer with 200,000 customers in the state, raised its rates an average of 17.5 per cent Aug. 18, the Michigan Insurance Bureau disclosed Monday.

The insurance bureau said those Detroiters insured by Allstate might have to pay nearly 9 per cent more at renewal time.

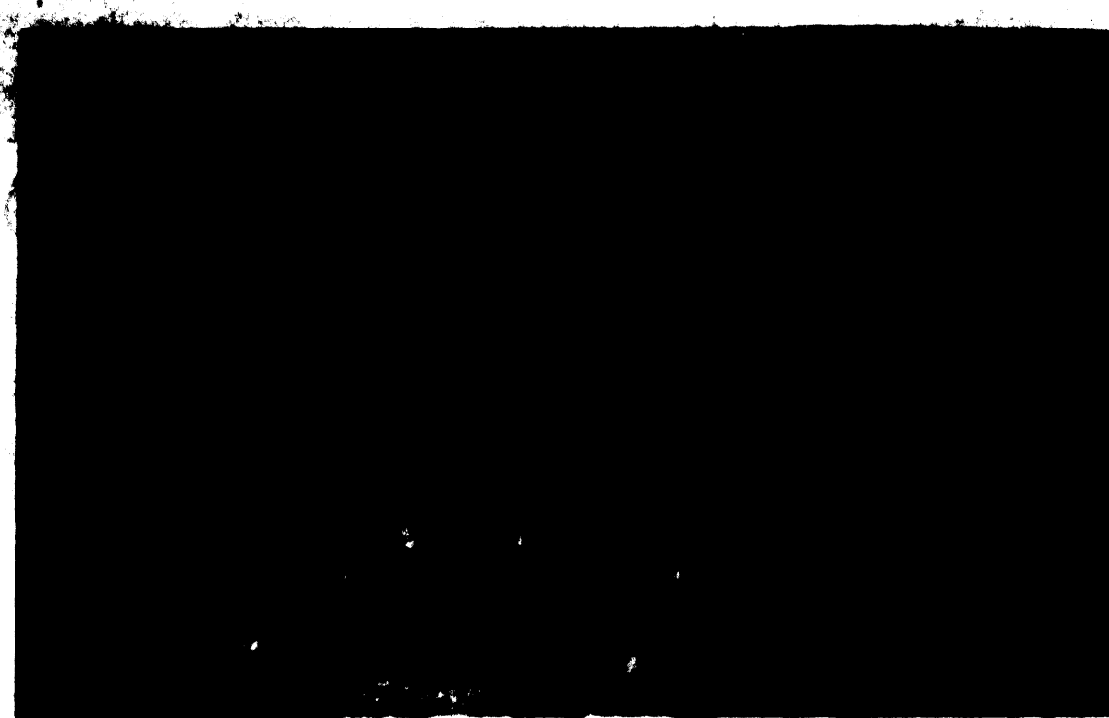

An insurance bureau spokesman said Allstate's rates reflect "competitive" with other insurers in Michigan, including the Automobile Club of Michigan, the largest in the state, and State Farm Mutual, No. 2.

Ed Daniels, insurance change general manager for the AAA, said:

"We raised our rates by an average of 17.5 per cent last April and we have no plans to increase them again in the foreseeable future."

Forest Sales Slow In U.P.

State Foresters today reported receipts of $28,512 for July in the Upper Peninsula from 280 active license permits.

Foresters said 28 new timber permits were issued during July with an estimated value placed at approximately $40,000.

The hardwood lumber market is poor in Forestry District I (Baraga), and several mills in Houghton County have temporarily suspended operations, foresters said. At least one other timber user in the District is slowing down procurement temporarily. However the Coleman Plant at L'Anse is again taking pulpwood after having their pulpwood closed for most of July.

The pulpwood market remains fairly good and it seems that a shortage of labor in some areas tends to limit the production of pulpwood.

In Forestry District III (Emmett), Foresters Wilfred Walker, of Manistique and Gerald Ross of Negaunee, both expect a shortage of wood labor and it is also reported that there is difficulty obtaining sufficient camp to load out the pulpwood. The demand for hardwood logs and veneer is definitely down in the District. The demand for white birch in Manistique and Delta Counties was good.

The market for peeled aspen remains good with a fair market for balsam and spruce, but with a limited demand. In Forestry District IV (Newberry), an excellent market for jack and red pine pulpwood was reported. However, cutting on the Lake Superior State Forest is progressing more slowly than last year.

Foresters feel that the upswing in the demand for peeled aspen in that area and a shortage of railroad cars appears to be the major causes. In fact, one Forester stated that, "The lack of railroad cars has forced inventories of wood stacked on roadides up to where jobbers cannot get advances on any more cutting."

The market for sawlogs and veneer is only fair. The hardwood veneer market remains poor in the Newberry District.

Degrees For Men 'Not In The Books' At Women's School

ROCK HILL, S.C. (AP) — A three-judge federal court has ruled that Whitman College, the state college for women at Rock Hill, need not grant degrees to men.

The college admitted a few men on an experimental basis last school year. They were not to receive undergraduate degrees. Some of them were among the 18 males of Rock Hill and the vicinity who sued to open to men the only state-supported college for women in South Carolina.

But the court held, "The equal protection clause of the 14th amendment does not require identity of treatment for all citizens, or preclude a state by legislation, from making classifications and creating differences in the right of different groups. It only demands that the discrimination not be wholly wanting in reason. Any other rule would mean that courts and not legislatures would determine all matters of public policy."

Lower Seeking Attorney General Post In Michigan

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Roger G. Kildan, 35, a Kalamazoo attorney said Monday he is a candidate for the Republican party's nomination for attorney general.

He is the second candidate to announce for the chance to run against Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley who has held the office over since being appointed in late 1951. Kelley also has won three consecutive terms and was unanimously renominated Sunday by his party.

The other declared Republican candidate is William S. Farr, a Grand Rapids lawyer who is chairman of the Kent County Republican committee.

Farr, 35, received encouragement from Gov. William Milliken who called him "very outstanding, a very appealing man."

Kildan, active in various in the U. S. Marine Corps for a time and holds a commercial pilot's license. A graduate of the University of Michigan, he lives with his wife and three children on a 120 acre farm near Elkhart, east of Kalamazoo.

Kiwanis Club Honors Babe Ruth Champs

Games of the team meeting of the Kalamazoo Kiwanis Club Monday was the Babe Ruth League baseball team that the club sponsors. The Kiwanis Babe Ruthers won the league title this season with an 8-2 record.

Coach Gordon Novela introduced his players and gave a short review of the season. Players attending were Ron Rudden, Jim and Dale Novela, Rick Dufalve, Rick Belanger, Jim Joran, Ken Richards, Tom Bruce, Jeff Young, Mike Dufley and Mike Peterson.

Mike Connolly of the Department of Natural Resources showed two films entitled "Timber Harvest" and "Canoe Trails." Both were older films, the first depicting old time lumbering in the Tahquamenon Forest and the second showed canoe routes on Michigan rivers in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

Connolly is a forester for the department and is a graduate of Michigan Tech University. He has been with the department for approximately two and one-half years.

La. Gov. Earl K. Long presented a short report on the Kiwanis International Convention which was held at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

Echols County, like many others in the South, had been operating under a freedom-of-choice plan that brought about little, if any, desegregation.

Many Southern school districts are opening under court-ordered desegregation plans aimed at achieving racial parity and ending token integration. In Georgia alone, 81 districts have submitted desegregation plans in response to Justice Department suits.

Thirty-nine other systems are under other court orders in Georgia and the other 49 districts in the state are either in compliance with federal desegregation guidelines or working under plans approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Classes began in four Alabama counties. Two of them, Dallas and Randolph, were under orders to do away with the concept of separate schools for white and black pupils.

Allstate Hikes Insurance Rates

DETROIT (AP) — Allstate, Michigan's third largest automobile insurer with 530,000 customers in the state, raised its rates an average of 17.6 per cent Aug. 10, the Michigan Insurance Bureau disclosed Monday.

The insurance bureau said some Detroiters insured by Allstate might have to pay nearly 40 per cent more at renewal time.

An insurance bureau spokesman said Allstate's rates remain "competitive" with other insurers in Michigan, including the Automobile Club of Michigan, the largest in the state, and State Farm Mutual, No. 2. Ed Daniels, insurance exchange general manager for the AAA, said:

"We raised our rates by an average of 12.5 per cent last April and we have no plans to increase them again in the foreseeable future."

Bark River Schools Hire New Teachers

BARK RIVER — Superintendent Charles W. Pearson of the Bark River - Harris Public Schools today announced the addition of two new teachers on the staff.

Pearson said that Mrs. Penny Totten, Spalding, will teach English at the high school and Kittie Bone, Rte. 2 Bark River, has been hired as a fifth grade teacher at the elementary school.

Mrs. Totten, the former Penny Pieropon of Spalding, will also be the advisor to the sophomore class. She attended Powers-Spalding High School and graduated in 1966 as valedictorian of the senior class.

She graduated from Northern Michigan University in May of this year with an English major and minors in history and French. Mrs. Totten completed her student teaching assignment at Escanaba Area High School in the fall of 1969.

Miss Bone, who lists her hobbies as cooking and bowling, is a 1966 graduate of Fenton High School. She received her degree in June of this year from Central Michigan University.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bone, recently moved here from Fenton and reside on a farm near Bark River.

Pearson also announced that school will begin on Monday, Aug. 31, at 1 p.m. for all students except those in kindergarten, who will start on Tuesday, Sept. 1.

Forest Sales Slow In U.P.

State Foresters today reported receipts of $35,312 for July in the Upper Peninsula from 393 active logger permits.

Foresters said 28 new timber permits were issued during July with an estimated value placed at approximately $50,000.

The hardwood lumber market is poor in Forestry District I (Baraga), and several mills in Houghton County have temporarily suspended operations, foresters said. At least one other timber user in the District is slowing down procurement temporarily. However the Celotex Plant at L'Anse is again taking pulpwood after having their pulpway closed for most of July.

The pulpwood market remains fairly good and it seems that a shortage of labor in some areas tends to limit the production of pulpwood.

In Forestry District III (Escanaba), Foresters Wilfred Wallace of Manistique and Gerald Rose of Negaunee, both report a shortage of woods labor and it is also reported that there is difficulty obtaining railroad cars to load out the pulpwood. The demand for hardwood logs and veneer is definitely down in the District. The demand for white birch in Menominee and Delta Counties was good.

The market for peeled aspen remains good with a fair market for balsam and spruce, but with a limited demand. In Forestry District IV (Newberry), an excellent market for jack and red pine pulpwood was reported. However, cutting on the Lake Superior State Forest is progressing more slowly than last year.

Foresters feel that the upswing in the demand for peeled aspen in that area and a shortage of railroad cars appears to be the major causes. In fact, one Forester stated that, "the lack of railroad cars has forced inventories of wood stacked on roadsides up to where jobbers cannot get advances on any more cutting."

The market for sawlogs and sawbolts is only fair. The hardwood veneer market remains poor in the Newberry District.

Degrees For Men 'Not In The Books' At Women's School

ROCK HILL, S.C. (AP) — A three-judge federal court has ruled that Winthrop College, the state college for women at Rock Hill, need not grant degrees to men.

The college admitted a few men on an experimental basis last school year. They were not to receive undergraduate degrees. Some of them were among the 10 males of Rock Hill and the vicinity who sued to open to men the only state-supported college for women in South Carolina.

But the court held, "The equal protection clause of the 14th amendment does not require identity of treatment for all citizens, or preclude a state by legislation, from making classifications and creating differences in the right of different groups..." It only demands that the discrimination not be wholly wanting in reason. Any other rule would mean that courts and not legislatures would determine all matters of public policy."

Coho Fete Queen

Lawyer Seeking Attorney General Post In Michigan

He is the second candidate to announce for the chance to run against Democratic Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley who has held the office ever since being appointed in late 1961. Kelley since has won three successive terms and was unanimously renominated Sunday by his party.

The other declared Republican candidate is William S. Farr, a Grand Rapids lawyer who is chairman of the Kent County Republican committee.

Farr, 35, received encouragement from Gov. William Milliken who called him "very outstanding, a very appealing man."

Kidston, active in various in the U. S. Marine Corps for a time and holds a commercial pilot's license. A graduate of the University of Michigan, he lives with his wife and three children on a 150 acre farm near climax, east of Kalamazoo.

Kiwanis Club Honors Babe Ruth Champs

Guests at the noon meeting of the Escanaba Kiwanis Club Monday was the Babe Ruth League baseball team that the club sponsors. The Kiwanis Babe Ruthers won the league title this season with an 8-2 record.

Coch Gordon Nevala introduced his players and gave a short resume of the season. Players attending were Ron Rudden, Jim and Dale Nevala, Rick DeSalvo, Rick Belanger, Jim Moran, Ken Richards, Tom Bruce, Jeff Young, Mike Dailey and Mike Peterson.

Mike Connelly of the Department of Natural Resources showed two films entitled "Timber Harvest" and "Canoe Trails." Both were older films, the first depicting old time lumbering in the Tahquamenon Forest and the second showed canoe routes on Michigan rivers in the Upper and Lower Peninsulas.

Connelly is a forester for the department and is a graduate of Michigan Tech University. He has been with the department for approximately two and one-half years.

Lt. Gov. Arol Beck presented a short report on the Kiwanis International Convention which was held at Cobo Hall in Detroit.

U. S. FOREST SERVICE employees, including forester Ken Gehris, right, with his family, wait outside the terminal building at the Escanaba Municipal Airport this morning prior to boarding a jet for fire fighting duty in the Wenatchee National Forest in Washington.

UPPER PENINSULA EMPLOYEES of the U. S. Forest Service who were notified of a critical fire situation in Washington Monday night boarded a United Airlines charter jet for duty in Escanaba. The plane was scheduled to make stops in Iron Mountain and Duluth, Minn., to pick up additional men before flying non-stop to Washington.

U.P. Sends Men To Fight Washington Forest Fires

A 10-man crew of fire fighters from Escanaba National Forest left Escanaba today aboard a charter jet for Washington to help battle a 30,000-acre forest fire raging in Wenatchee National Forest.

The men joined other U. S. Forest Service employees recruited as emergency fire fighters from the Midwest aboard the United Airlines 737 for the flight to Washington this morning.

Stops at Iron Mountain and Duluth, Minn., also were scheduled to pick up more men.

Staff All Men

Alfred Trout, Escanaba, Michigan National Forest supervisor, said he was notified by the U. S. Forest Service headquarters for the eastern region at Milwaukee last night that fire fighters were needed.

Prices Continue To Slide Lower As Rally Falters

NEW YORK (AP) — Prices continued to slide lower in moderate trading today as profit taking smothered the rally of the past five days.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 5.6 to 751.51 at noon.

Declines held a small but widening lead over advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said that today's slide was due mostly to profit taking after short-covering and heavy institutional buying drove the market up Monday.

"People will take a point profit, it's that bad," said Bradbury K. Thurlow, an analyst with Hoppin, Watson & Co. of New York. "As soon as profits dry up, they'll jump back in again. It's been so long since we saw a profit on Wall Street."

He added that "it's better this should happen today than if we had built up a head of steam and had a cooling spree later."

Thurlow concluded that he expected the profit taking to end late today or early Wednesday.

The current rally began last Tuesday and saw the Dow Jones average pile on 30 points—30 of them in the last two trading sessions.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 1.5 to 268.5 at noon. Industrials lost 2.3; rails gained .1 and utilities dropped .4.

The request was for all available men who could be spared without endangering other forest areas by leaving them without fire protection, Trout said.

Men were selected from the Escanaba National Forest on the basis of experience and lack of experience, Trout said. The inexperienced men were selected to give them first hand training in fire fighting methods.

Board the plane this morning were Pete Kaban, district ranger, Manistiquie; Dick Sobieski, forestry aide, Cooks; Bill Smith, district ranger, St. Ignace; Ray Chene, district ranger, and Dick Magrath, forestry aide, Rapid River; Bob Potals, assistant district ranger, and Marvin June, forestry aide, Munising; Gary Carr, assistant district ranger, and John Echle, forester, Sault Ste. Marie, and Ken Gehris, forester, Escanaba.

Trout said some of the men were flown to Escanaba in smaller aircraft this morning to meet the 85-passenger jet which arrived from Chicago.

About 1,500 men already were battling the biggest blaze in the Wenatchee National Forest, about 12 miles southwest of Chelan, Wash.

A Forest Service spokesman said the fire, touched off by lightning on Fourth of July Mountain, was moving along a three-mile front. The Mitchell Creek fire spread from 2,000 acres Monday.

Altogether U. S. Forest Service crews were battling 64 fires on more than 40,000 acres in the forest. Another large blaze was the 10,000-acre Polson Creek fire which fire fighters said may join the Mitchell Creek blaze.

Other large fires in the Wenatchee National Forest were the 2,400-acre Slide Creek fire in the Lake Chelan area and the 1,500-acre Burns Creek fire about 25 miles northwest of Entiat.

The flames burned through light to heavy timber. All of the fires were reportedly touched off by lightning.

Senate Debates Attractive Volunteer Plan That Could Mean End To Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — Faced with Nixon administration opposition, a divided Senate debated today whether to make the military service an attractive volunteer would eliminate the need for the draft.

The White House demands the proposal, backed by an unusual coalition of liberals and conservatives, would cost billions and throw the budget further out of balance.

A vote could come late today.

Opposition Chief

The fate of the measure, sponsored by Sens. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., and Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., could depend on the number of votes attracted away by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who opposes the present draft system.

Kennedy has said he fears the undrafted volunteer army concept could lead to poor men fighting rich men's wars.

The amendment to the military purchasing bill also is opposed by Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the Armed Services Committee.

Before Pay Needed

Goldwater and Hatfield contend steps must be taken now to upgrade military pay and allowances so Congress will not be forced to extend the draft when it expires next June.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., in a speech prepared for Senate delivery today, advised his colleagues to move slowly on the problem.

Calley Trial Date Still Undecided

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Lt. William L. Calley Jr., appears before a judge today for another round of legal maneuvering by his lawyers and could learn the date for his trial on charges of murdering Vietnam civilians at My Lai.

Defense attorneys, led by George Latimer of Salt Lake City, spent Monday arguing for motions they hope will result in classified government documents being made available to them.

The hearing behind closed doors resumes today.

Latimer predicted after Monday's session that the judge, Col. Reid W. Kennedy, who is to preside over the trial, would set a new date for it to get under way.

It was to have begun Monday but was postponed by Kennedy so that the defense could present its motions.

"These differences still exist even among the experts concerning the practicality and effect of a volunteer army," Case said.

Military Bills Possible

"Not the least of these is the possible development of an officer military elite relatively isolated from the mainstream of American life and attitudes ranks manned even more than

They are now by the poor and underprivileged of America," Case said.

He said he agreed with President Nixon's proposal for a 20 per cent minimum pay increase for reservists as a first step of the proposition that better pay can attract sufficient volunteers.

"It is, I believe, no course preferable to the immediate and total abolition of the draft," Goldwater and Hatfield have said repeatedly their amendment would not abolish the draft.

Trial Possible

It would provide a trial period during which officials could observe whether increased inducements result in increased volunteers.

The White House said it still is committed to opposing the draft of the draft possible date—but not now.

"By voting against the amendment, senators will be substituting my change that the draft can be permitted to die next year," Goldwater said.

"We are not voting to abolish the draft here and now. We are only voting on whether we will give all military personnel decent and equitable service conditions."

U.P. Sends Men To Fight Washington Forest Fires

A 10-man crew of fire fighters from Hiawatha National Forest left Escanaba today aboard a charter jet for Washington to help battle a 30,000-acre forest fire raging in Wenatchee National Forest.

The men joined other U. S. Forest Service employees recruited as emergency fire fighters from the midwest aboard the United Airlines 727 for the flight to Washington this morning.

Stops at Iron Mountain and Duluth, Minn., also were scheduled to pick up more men.

Alfred Trout, Escanaba, Hiawatha National Forest supervisor, said he was notified by the U. S. Forest Service headquarters for the eastern region at Milwaukee last night that fire fighters were needed.

Prices Continue To Slide Lower As Rally Falters
NEW YORK (AP) — Prices continued to slide lower in moderate trading today as profit taking smothered the rally of the past five days.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 8.07 to 751.51 at noon.

Declines held a small but widening lead over advances on the New York Stock Exchange.

Analysts said that today's slide was due mostly to profit taking after short-covering and heavy institutional buying drove the market up Monday.

"People will take a point profit, it's that bad," said Bradbury K. Thurlow, an analyst with Hoppin, Watson & Co. of New York. "As soon as profits dry up, they'll jump back in again. It's been so long since we saw a profit on Wall Street."

He added that "it's better this average was off 1.5 to 246.5 at the end of the week than if we had built up a head of steam and had a selling spree later."

Thurlow concluded that he expected the profit taking to end late today or early Wednesday.

The current rally began last Tuesday and saw the Dow Jones average pile on 50 points—30 of them in the last two trading sessions.

The Associate Press 60-stock average was off 1.5 to 246.5 at noon. Industrials lost 3.3; rails gained .1 and utilities dropped .9.

Briefly Told
State Police are investigating a breaking and entering at the home of Ruth Bouchard, Rte. 1 Escanaba. Officers said that the incident occurred sometime between Sunday and Monday afternoons and that entry to the house was gained through a window in the garage. A small amount of money was reported missing.

A fire Monday morning caused damage to the wiring of a car owned by Donald Couillard, Gladstone. Firemen said that the fire started due to a short in the wiring.

Perkins
Mr. and Mrs. William Collins and daughter of North Lake, Wis. visited Mrs. Lola Collins. They also visited Mrs. Ethel Anderson.

Steve Kerkes and Paul Weber of Milan visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Verbrugghe last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bunker of Coleman, Wis., Mrs. Charles Boyer and children of Glendale, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Orville Young of Chicago, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norden and with other relatives and friends recently.

1,500 Battle Fires
Trout said some of the men were flown to Escanaba in smaller aircraft this morning to meet the 85-passenger jet which arrived from Chicago.

About 1,500 men already were battling the biggest blaze in the Wenatchee National Forest, about 12 miles northwest of Chelan, Wash.

A Forest Service spokesman said the fire, touched off by lightning on Fourth of July Mountain, was moving along a three-mile front. The Mitchell Creek fire spread from 2,000 acres Monday.

Altogether U. S. Forest Service crews were battling 64 fires on more than 40,000 acres in the forest. Another large blaze was the 10,000-acre Poisson Creek fire which fire fighters said may join the Mitchell Creek blaze.

Other large fires in the Wenatchee National Forest were the 2,000-acre Slide Creek fire in the Lake Chelan area and the 1,500-acre Burns Creek fire about 25 miles northwest of Entiat.

The flames burned through light to heavy timber. All of the fires were reportedly touched off by lightning.

A UNITED AIRLINES 727 JET chartered by the U. S. Forest Service landed at the Escanaba Municipal Airport this morning to pick up fire fighters. The jet was the first of its type ever to land and takeoff at Escanaba. (Daily Press Photos)

Senate Debates Attractive Volunteer Plan That Could Mean End To Draft

WASHINGTON (AP) — Faced with Nixon administration opposition, a divided Senate debates today whether to make the military career so attractive volunteers would eliminate the need for the draft.

The White House contends the proposal, backed by an unusual coalition of liberals and conservatives, would cost billions and throw the budget further out of balance.

A vote could come late today.

Opposition Cited
The fate of the measure, sponsored by Sens. Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., and Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., could depend on the number of votes attracted away by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who opposes the present draft system.

Kennedy has said he fears the undiluted volunteer army concept could lead to poor men fighting rich men's wars.

The amendment to the military purchasing bill also is opposed by Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the Armed Services Committee.

Better Pay Needed
Goldwater and Hatfield contend steps must be taken now to upgrade military pay and allowances so Congress will not be forced to extend the draft when it expires next June.

Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., in a speech prepared for Senate delivery today, advised his colleagues to move slowly on the problem.

Calley Trial Date Still Undecided
FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Lt. William L. Calley Jr., appears before a judge today for another round of legal maneuvering by his lawyers and could learn the date for his trial on charges of murdering Vietnamese civilians at My Lai.

Defense attorneys, led by George Latimer of Salt Lake City, spent Monday arguing for motions they hope will result in classified government documents being made available to them.

The hearing behind closed doors resumes today.

Latimer predicted after Monday's session that the judge, Col. Reid W. Kennedy, who is to preside over the trial, would set a new date for it to get under way.

It was to have begun Monday but was postponed by Kennedy so that the defense could present its motions.

"Honest differences still exist even among the experts concerning the practicality and effect of a volunteer army," Case said.

He said he agrees with President Nixon's proposed 20 per cent minimum pay increase for recruits as a first test of the proposition that better pay can attract sufficient volunteers.

Military Elite Possible
"Not the least of these is the possible development of an officer military elite relatively isolated from the mainstream of American life and enlisted ranks manned even more than

Goldwater and Hatfield have said repeatedly their amendment would not abolish the draft.

Trial Period
It would provide a trial period during which officials could observe whether increased inducements result in increased volunteers.

The White House said it still is committed to replacing the draft at the earliest possible date—but not now.

"By voting against the amendment, senators will be sabotaging any chance that the draft can be permitted to die next year," Goldwater said.

"We are not voting to abolish the draft here and now. We are only voting on whether we will give all military personnel decent and equitable service conditions."

Pope Tearfully Embraces Bishop Freed By Reds
CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul VI tearfully embraced Bishop James Walsh today and thanked him "in the name of Christ for all that you have done and suffered" during his 12 years' imprisonment in Red China.

In a 45-minute audience, the pontiff told the 79-year-old American missionary:

"We know that your sufferings have not been in vain. We are confident that the example of your enduring love will show the world and especially the young the greatness of the missionary calling."

The Pope spoke in English to the frail, white-haired bishop. It was their first meeting, and they talked alone for 15 minutes. Then Church officials, relatives of Bishop Walsh, and a television crew joined them.

MANISTIQUE Parking Ban Given Nod In Split Vote

City Council took action Monday night to correct the traffic hazard at the Oak-Meade intersection which was approved by a 3-2 vote. A parking ban on Maple St. (U. S. 31) from the alley next to the Mobil Service station to the Tool & Die building across the intersection.

The explosion occurred at the James home in Garden. Troopers also report a car driven by Sara D. Class Air Race Driver Using Unleaded Gas Leading Pack

CHICAGO (AP) — An international engine car led the field most of the first day of the 1970 Class Air Car Race—a test not for speed but to see which of 42 vehicles contributes least to air pollution.

Thirty-one of the cars that left Cambridge, Mass., Monday morning had made it to Toronto by shortly after midnight, according to the race information center in Chicago. Others straggled in through the night, slowed by engine trouble or other problems.

Ahead was a 243-drive to Detroit where the vehicles were to undergo emission tests tonight.

The leader most of the first day was a car using unleaded gasoline, driven by three University of Michigan students. Second and third were an electric hybrid car from the University of Toronto and an internal-combustion car from Worcester Polytechnic Institute at Worcester, Mass.

But the winners of the seven-day run will not necessarily be the first cars across the finish line at Pasadena, Calif., next Sunday. What counts is which vehicle emits the least pollutants.

Winners from the entries of 30 colleges and 2 high schools in the United States and Canada will be named in five categories—modified internal-combustion, electric, electric hybrid, steam and turbine.

An electric hybrid is powered by batteries inside city limits and by an internal-combustion engine in the countryside.

Most of the cars are in the modified internal-combustion class—some using fuels such as propane or natural gas, others using unleaded gasoline and another group burning regular gasoline in specially modified engines.

Two steam cars are entered but as of Monday night only one had made it out of Cambridge—a crew was working on the other steam entry, vowing to get into the race no matter how late.

300-Pound 'Bear' Missing, Woman Blasts Thieves

GRATYNG (AP) — "It's a dirty trick," says Dorothy Sawyeh, in protesting the theft of an eight-foot, 300-pound Stearman bear.

The bear replica of a roaring Kodiak was stolen from the entrance to Bear Mountain Park early Saturday.

"That bear was a symbol for all of us," said the woman—an employee of the park. "I don't care if it is a prank this just isn't funny."

Officials suspected the bear may have been missing in conjunction with units of the Ohio National Guard, who completed two weeks of summer active duty training at Camp Gradyling Saturday.

Some 4,200 guardsmen left for home early Saturday. Residents said several guardsmen were at the Bear Mountain Lodge Friday night.

However, state police stopped the convey and searched the trucks and failed to find the bear.

Presley Concert Sold Out In Hurry

DETROIT (AP) — "I've never seen anything like it," said ticket seller Jerry Baren at Olympia Stadium Monday — where most of the tickets for a Sept. 11 concert by singer Elvis Presley were sold on the first day.

About 1,300 fans waited in line early Monday as the ticket windows opened.

"He's still the king. No one will ever be able to do what he did," said Mrs. Margaret Feller, 30, while waiting in line.

"It must be his style. And there's a lot of nostalgia. I hope he sings a lot of old stuff. But his new stuff is great, too," said Red Holland, 25.

Expert To Study Manistigon Child Welfare Program

LANGRISH (AP) — Michigan officials have hired a private of child welfare expert to study the state's child welfare program.

Gov. William G. Milliken's office reported Monday that the firm of Post, Marwick, Mitchell and Co., based in Washington, D.C., will study procedures for administering aid to "neglected and abused" children. The firm is described as a "business management consultant."

Dr. Robert Elkin will direct the project. Milliken's office said. He designed a child welfare program now used by the state of Illinois.

This year's budget for the State Social Services Department includes about $22 million for various children's welfare programs. Federal funds "authorize" another $80 million and counties provide about $7 million.

Milliken's office said the study, expected to be completed in a year, will attempt to decide which services should be provided by public or private agencies.

Parking Ban Given Nod In Split Vote

City Council took action Monday night to correct the traffic hazard at the Oak-Maple intersection when they approved by 3-2 vote a no parking ban on Maple St. (U. S. 2) from the alley next to the Mobil Service station to the Tool & Die building across the intersection.

Residents Complain

The intersection has been a thorn to motorists and the scene of several accidents. Vehicles on Oak St. must creep beyond the corner and onto the highway before daring to cross or turn either right or left.

Tank Explodes, Man, 35, Injured

A thirty-five year old Garden man was severely injured when a gas storage tank he was welding exploded Sunday morning. State Police said Jack James of Garden was taken by ambulance to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital shortly after 11:50 Sunday morning and then transferred to St. Luke's Hospital in Marquette for treatment.

The explosion occurred at the James home in Garden. Troopers also report a car driven by Sara D. Farmer, 27, 806 Garden Ave., went off County Rd. 442 and struck some guard rails about 1:35 Sunday morning. Both the driver and a passenger, Herbert K. Prond, 40, 100 S. Second St., were injured and required treatment at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. The vehicle was extensively damaged and towed from the scene.

Hospital

Admitted to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital over the weekend were John Kohler, Donald Curran, Sandra Nete-meyer, Karen Bray, Ernest La-Londe, Sara Farmer, Joseph Miller, Roy Betterly, Dana-Lee Henry, Emma Johnson, Rita Tegels, Margaret Collins, Wendy Feathers and Elizabeth Cook. Discharged were Benjamin Warner, Ernest Gehrke, Della Bruley, Edward Jorgenson, Hilmer Larson, Henry Worley, Virginia Goff, Elizabeth Carson, Beatrice Minor, Sandra Nete-meyer, Phyllis Popour and Jack James.

Births

PATZ — Mr. and Mrs. Larry Patz, 215 N. First St., are the parents of a son born Sunday, Aug. 23, at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. The infant weighed 7 pounds and 9 ounces. Mrs. Patz is the former Ruth Caroline Freeman.

Mayor Douglas Rose and Councilman A. J. Cayia Jr. voted against the parking ban, claiming it is discriminatory since similar situations exist at other intersections.

A public hearing on special assessments for curb and gutter work brought a multitude of complaints from several unhappy residents.

High sidewalk, torn up driveways and lawns, indentations in the blacktopping, dumpage left on lawns and lack of inspection were the gripes from Arbutus Ave. and Pearl St. property owners who were told that city crews will do the extra cleanup work.

Council approved the special curb-gutter assessment which can be repaid over a 10 year period with the first payment due July 10, 1971.

Residents who wish to avoid the interest charge (set at maximum of 9 per cent or not more than one per cent over the sale rate of the bonds) must pay their total bill before Nov. 1, 1970.

Council noted that the original estimates on individual assessments were a little high and that the actual assessments will be less.

"We'll have to go underground before we do any more street work," said Councilman Leo DeMars in agreeing with some residents who reminded council of the need for new sewers.

To Honor Team

Robert Gierke, N. Houghton Ave., commended the city for its street improvement program and had special praises for Street Supt. Ray Linderoth. Council decided to award patches of the city emblem to the Little League baseball team, manager and coach in recognition of the tournament victories. The presentations will be made at the next council meeting. Council also approved a request from the county treasurer to withhold certain properties from tax sale so the former owner can redeem the land and conveyance of 4.3 acres of land at the north end of the quarry to the state for use as an armory site.

'Be Nice To Man' Week Proposed

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A 42-year-old business executive who calls herself a "liberated woman" is asking other members of her sex to forego the strike called for Wednesday by the National Women's Strike Coalition and instead make it "be nice to a man day."

"You get more with sugar than vinegar," said Jean Cordes. As head of the Aunt Mary Division of Lisle Ramsay Portraits, Inc., Mrs. Cordes supervises about 350 women in some 100 cities.

While she supports some of the movement's goals for equality of the sexes, Mrs. Cordes said she can't go along with "their abrasive methods and their self-destructive bitterness."

"I'm afraid they're going to make all of us—the silent majority of women included—victims of a male backlash that is certain to result from their tirades," she said.

Strike activities include marches, rallies, seminars, and a boycott of products the movement contends insult women in their advertisements.

Mrs. Cordes, who has a son 16 and daughter 15, was divorced last fall. She said the breakup was not due to her years as a working wife.

She began with the firm 12 years ago, selling family portrait plans part time.

Mrs. Cordes says women should be paid the same as men when they do similar work, but women should "get ahead on their own without expecting special consideration."

Some jobs are just not for women, she contends.

"I have never quite understood what is bugging the women's lib leaders except that a lot of them really don't like men or probably feel that they are not getting ahead in the world as fast as they should," she said.

Despite her fast climb to the executive offices, Mrs. Cordes says, "I still want to be treated like a woman—for a man to open the door, notice my perfume, notice me."

On Wednesday, she will treat "a pretty special man in my life" to dinner.

For others not manning the barricades she suggests a few ways of being nice to their men: dress up, use a good perfume, make a special dinner and keep the kids quiet.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. George Bouschor, Roaring Springs, Pa., are visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Leslie Bouschor, 415 Walnut St., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Krzyzanski, 445 Delta Ave. They will return home this weekend in company with their sons, Georgie and John, who have been visiting their grandparents the past month.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Dombrowski, Sandra Joan, Bobby and Paul David, Weston, Conn., arrived Monday to spend a week with Mrs. Dombrowski's mother, Mrs. W. J. Sheahan, 223 Range St. Mrs. Dombrowski is the former Joan Sheahan.

ROYAL OAK (AP) — Police and young people battled for more than two hours Monday night at Royal Oak's Memorial Park.

Royal Oak police said they arrested more than 30 persons as they swept over the park clearing it of some 800 youths. Witnesses said windows were broken in several buildings in the area but no looting was reported.

Bears Trapped By Chargers

... Don't look good, but we win," said Waller. "That last drive was a thing of beauty but that's the way the game should be played."

He referred to a 73-yard drive engineered by second-year

"We picked them up. I was very impressed with the way the Chargers moved the ball in long pass situations."

"We have to adjust," the Bear coach added. "We just have to keep working on our offense and defense."

Donner, who quarterbacked the Bears to a come-from-behind victory over the New York Giants on Aug. 14, 1971, gave the Bears' defense all the credit for blanketing the Chargers for three quarters.

"If we can eliminate penalties we won't have to win in the last quarter; we'll be ahead by 28," Donner said. "Penalties are what hurt us; they stop our drives."

Bayer's Goal Only 25 Yards

The Charger defense held Gold's offense to 25 yards in a nine-carrier and Bear quarterbacked Baker Douglas completed only 13 of 28 for 117 yards, but he completed 22 yards in four trips to lead Chicago on the ground.

Chicago's offense was virtually restricted to placekicks. Mac Percival was kicked field goals of 17, 20 and 20 yards and missed from 45 yards out in the third quarter. A 20-yard punt return by Percival's first three-point and Bill Staley's block of a San Diego field goal attempt paved the way for the Bears' second score.

Dick Butner's recovery of a Charger fumble was converted into Percival's final success.

"The defense let down the expectation of containment," said Waller, referring to Douglas' scrambling run. "Our pass coverage was very improved."

Tight Races For Runner-Up Spots In Both Leagues

By The Associated Press

Redskins and Cincinnati, sitting on 34 points in the American League West race, hardly overtook each other's shoulders these days. But they ought to. There are some pretty good races going on back there.

The New York Yankees, a huge 11½ game back of the Orioles, are only one-half game up on Detroit in the AL East after losing to Kansas City 5-7 Monday night. It was the first victory for the Royals in 10 games against the Yankees this season.

Reds Lead By 12

In the NL West, the Reds hold a hefty 12-game edge over Los Angeles following the Dodgers' 4-3 loss to Chicago. But the action is a notch lower where just one-half game separates San Francisco and Atlanta in the jockeying for third place. The Braves edged the Pirates 4-3 by knocking out the Pirates' ace, Niekirk, in the eighth.

All other teams had the day off.

The Yankees hadn't lost to the Royals all season but Kansas City made up for lost time by pounding the Yankees 10-1 and four relievers for 14 hits including three by Paul Siebert, who drove in four runs.

School tripled home two runs in the third against Stottman, then singled two more across as the Royals took the lead for the first time in the 10th. Tom Matlack also pitched in with a three-run double in the second.

Maroon Hits No. 11

Bobby Maroon delivered a pair of sacrifice hits as well as his 21st homer of the year for the Yankees.

Stons' charged Montreal, ending the Expos' five-game winning streak and moving the Braves within one-half game of the San Francisco.

London's man Mike Lum tagged Bill Stoneman for a first-pitch home run and Stons' protected the narrow lead until the seventh when the Braves busted loose for five more runs—four of them unearned. Mike Carly, Clois Roper and Gil Co-

L'Anse Group Wants Coach Reinstated

L'ANCE — The fight to have Bill (Sugar) Popp reinstated as L'Anse High School basketball coach is continuing.

An organization which calls itself POPP (People's Organization for Protection of Popp) has been formed and action against the township board of education is planned. One of the steps considered by the group is a recall movement against board members.

Popp, who led the L'Anse Hornets to the state Class C championship in 1968 and whose teams have won 75 out of 127 games in seven years, was dismissed from the coaching position recently. A successor has not yet been named.

At a recent executive session of the school board, members agreed that Popp would be reinstated in a teaching post for the coming school year and be reinstated as coach in 1971-72. Popp has rejected this proposal.

One school board member already has resigned over Popp's dismissal as coach.

Junior, Couples Events Scheduled At Country Club

The Eagan Country Club will be a busy place this week with events scheduled every day through Sunday.

The club's Junior Golf Tournament is scheduled Friday with 16-holes of medal play open to all junior members of high school age, announced Jim O'Brien, pro.

Sunday, a husband and wife tournament is scheduled with play after 3 p. m. The nine-hole, best ball handicap tournament will be followed by a junior-boys' own meet contest at the clubhouse. Members are invited for dinner.

Regular men's Twilight League play was on the schedule this afternoon with Women's League play Wednesday. The annual Invitational Men's Stag is scheduled Thursday with play after 3 p. m. and the first round of the Championship Flight in the Men's Club tournament will be played Saturday afternoon.

Bowling Notes

The Sunday 9 p. m. Mixed Couples bowling league will meet Sunday, Aug. 20, at 9 p. m. at the Bowl-A-Rama. All teams in the league are asked to have a representative present at the meeting and any new teams interested in joining the league are invited to attend.

Schombacher, who says he's in "the best shape I've been since a head coach," said that if Betts was a starting quarterback "he would be the third best quarterback in the Big Ten."

"I can't justify not playing him when we can use him on defense," he said.

Behind Michigan, he indicated Ron Kern of Ohio State was the conference's second best quarterback.

"Other teams will come along as they develop a quarterback," Schombacher said. "If it comes he has outstanding sophomore quarterbacks, look out!"

Tigers Eye Second Place, Face Angels

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers can jump back into second place in the American League's East Division, when they meet the California Angels and their controversial Detroit native Alex Johnson in two games tonight.

Going into the contest, the Tigers were in third place, one-half game behind New York, but 12 games behind division leading Baltimore.

Joe Mauer and Les Lea were scheduled to take the mound for the Tigers. A lot of the spotlight will be on Johnson, who is hitting .318 for the Angels. But Johnson still has had his troubles.

Alex grew up with Tiger great Willie Horton and both attended Northwestern High School in Detroit. Alex' brother, Ron Johnson, was a football star at the University of Michigan.

In the off season, Alex runs a trucking business in Detroit. Despite his standout ability, he remains a knoe, which has tarnished his hero's halo somewhat for California.

Horton said of Johnson, "I don't understand Alex, and I've known him all my life. He's a funny guy. He doesn't like to joke around at all. He's all business. He wants to just do his job and leave it at that."

Horton said "He just doesn't want to bother with people—he doesn't want people to bother him."

Johnson bated around the 300 mark for Philadelphia for two seasons in the mid-1960s, but the Phillies traded him to

Moorhead Appears Key To Michigan's Big 10 Chances

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Attention football subcommittee:

Anyone wishing to undermine the very capable 1970 Michigan team must simply figure a way to "eliminate" quarterback Dan Moorhead early in the season.

Although the Wolverines have one of the fine defenses in the country, it appears that co-captain Moorhead is the key to their Big Ten title chances. Backing him up is almost no one.

Bo Frances Quarterback

"As long as Moorhead is whole, in my opinion, we have as good a quarterback as there is in the country," grunted Coach Bo Schombacher Monday at the annual U-M football press luncheon.

The attack previewed the season, which was to begin today with two-day practice sessions for a squad of 65.

Schombacher, who weighed 280 pounds in Pasadena, has slimmed to a trim 180 since his heart attack before the Rose Bowl game. He was lavish in his praise of the 6-foot-3, 185-pound senior from Grand Haven.

"He's a great football player," he said. "He knows the game and he can think out there."

Moorhead passed for 1,281 yards and five touchdowns last year. Running from the option-T formation he added 686 yards in his own on runs and scored four touchdowns.

Second-String Quarterback Out

Last year Jim Betts backed up Moorhead, but Betts, a fine athlete, has been moved to center to replace departed All-American Tom Curtis. Schombacher was counting on sophomore Larry Cipe as his second-string quarterback but Cipe suffered a knee injury in spring practice and might be laid for the season. He was to be operated on today.

Bears Trapped By Chargers

SAN DIEGO AP — Charlie Waller called his San Diego Chargers "a diamond in the rough," and Jim Dooley merely said his Chicago Bears need more work.

While neither head coach was overjoyed, Waller laid claim to Monday night's National Football League preseason victory, a 14-9 decision for the Chargers who sputtered scoreless for three penalty-plagued quarters before pushing across two touchdowns.

Don't Look Good, But Win

"We don't look good but we win," said Waller. "That last drive was a thing of beauty but that's the way the game should be played."

He referred to a 72-yard drive engineered by second-year

quarterback Marty Domres, who entered the game after veteran John Hadji got the Chargers on the scoreboard with a 5-yard swing pass to fullback Brad Hubbard.

Domres completed three of five passes for 45 yards, including a clutch 21-yard shot to Gary Garrison on a third-and-20 situation, before Dick Post ran 14 yards for the winning score with only 3:20 left to play.

"Penalties killed us in the first half," said Waller, whose team was assessed 132 yards compared to 86 against Chicago.

"When the bottlenecks get out of the offense we will be able to move the ball well against most clubs."

"Marty Domres did a fine job for San Diego," said Dooley.

"He picked them up. I was very impressed with the way the Chargers moved the ball in long pass situations."

"We have no excuses," the Bear coach added. "We just have to keep working on our offense and defense."

Domres, who quarterbacked Chargers to a come-from-behind victory over the New York Giants on Aug. 15, didn't give the Bears' defense all the credit for blanking the Chargers for three stanzas.

"If we can eliminate penalties we won't have to win in the last quarter; we'll be ahead by 40," Domres said. "Penalties are what hurt us; they stop our drives."

Sayers Gets Only 25 Yards

The Charger defense held Gale Sayers to 25 yards in a nine carries and Bear quarterback Bobby Douglass completed only 13 of 33 for 117 yards, but he scampered 32 yards in four trips to lead Chicago on the ground.

Chicago's offense was virtually restricted to placekicker Mac Percival who booted field goals of 17, 20 and 30 yards and missed from 43 yards out in the third quarter. A 29-yard punt return by rookie Linzy Cole set up Percival's first three-points and Bill Staley's block of a San Diego field goal attempt paved the way for the Bears' second score.

Dick Butkus' recovery of a Charger fumble was converted into Percival's final success.

"The defense jelled with the exception of containment," said Waller, referring to Douglass' scrambling runs. "Our pass coverage was very improved."

Tight Races For Runner-Up Spots In Both Leagues

By The Associated Press
Baltimore and Cincinnati, sitting on fat leads in the American League East and National League West races, hardly ever peek over their shoulders these days. But they ought to. There are some pretty good races going on back there.

The New York Yankees, a huge 11½ games back of the Orioles, are only one-half game up on Detroit in the battle for second place in the AL East after losing to Kansas City 8-7 Monday night. It was the first victory for the Royals in 10 games against the Yankees this season.

Reds Lead By 12

In the NL West, the Reds hold a hefty 12-game bulge over Los Angeles following the Dodgers' 4-2 loss to Chicago. But the action is a notch lower where just one-half game separates San Francisco and Atlanta in the jockeying for third place. The Braves tightened it up by blanking Montreal 6-0 on George Stone's three-hitter Monday night.

All other teams had the day off. The Yankees hadn't lost to the Royals all season but Kansas City made up for lost time by pounding Mel Stottlemyre and four relievers for 14 hits including three by Paul Schaaf, who drove in four runs.

Schaaf tripled home two runs in the third against Stottlemyre, then singled two more across as the Royals took the lead for keeps with three in the fifth. Tom Matchick also pitched in with a three-run double in the second.

Murcer Hits No. 21

Bobby Murcer delivered a pair of sacrifice flies as well as his 21st homer of the year for the Yankees.

Stone throttled Montreal, ending the Expos' five-game winning streak and moving the Braves within one-half game of idle San Francisco.

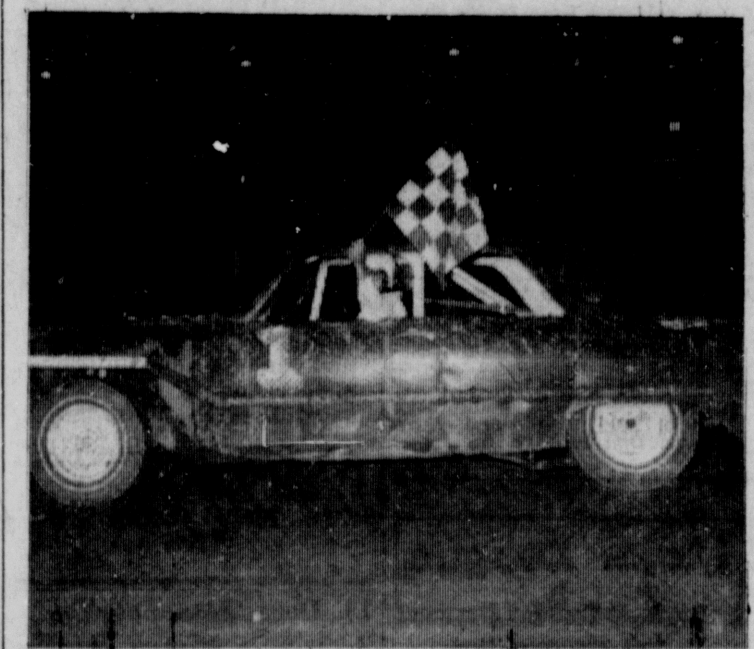

Leadoff man Mike Lum tagged Bill Stoneman for a first-pitch home run and Stone protected the narrow lead until the seventh when the Braves busted loose for five more runs — four of them unearned. Rico Carty, Clete Boyer and Gil Gar-rido all contributed RBI-singles to that rally.

Stone struck out seven and evened his record at 9-9.

The Cubs moved within 4½ games of first-place Pittsburgh and only 1½ back of New York in the tightening NL East race by knocking off the Dodgers.

Ferguson Jenkins won his 16th game, scattering eight hits, Joe Pepitone drove in Chicago's first two runs with his 19th homer of the year.

Oakland Hills To Host 1972 PGA Tourney

BIRMINGHAM, Mich. (AP)—The 1972 Professional Golfers Association (PGA) national championship will be played at Oakland Hills Country Club at Birmingham, the club president announced Monday.

Robert D. Rowan said the event would be held Aug. 3-6 for a minimum purse of $200,000.

The course, designed by fan-ed golf course architect Robert Trent Jones, has been the site of four U.S. Opens. Jones toured the course last week and suggested minor changes—more sand traps—be made for the tournament. Rowan said Monday that work on the course will begin just after Labor Day.

PGA President Leo Fraser, of Atlantic City, N.J., expressed his satisfaction with the selection.

"Oakland Hills ranks with the greatest championship courses in the world and it gives me great personal pride that the 1972 championship will be played at Oakland Hills," Fraser said.

Saint Norbert drew the most severe penalty in that it won't be permitted to engage in post season basketball competition. Warren S. Wins AVCO Title

Bill Casper Gains 'Sweet' Revenge

SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Billy Casper is soft-spoken and mild mannered, but he's a tiger on the golf course as the top money-winner on the PGA tour this year.

Casper gained sweet vengeance on one of his most frustrating layouts Monday, firing a three-under par 69 and winning the $160,000 Avco Classic by three strokes at Pleasant Valley Country Club.

"After that first round 81, the highest of my career, and failing to make the cut for the first time since 1964, I guess I was more determined this year," Casper said after winning his fourth tournament this season.

47th Tourney Win

Referring to his nightmareish play in the 1969 Avco on the same 7,212-yard course, the 39-year-old Masters champion gained some extra satisfaction in his 47th tournament victory.

Just one year ago, Casper vowed, "I'll be back. This course owes me a bundle." He kept his word and returned.

"I wanted to make amends," Billy said after finishing with a 72-hole total of 277, 11 under par, in the 72-hole tournament delayed by torrential rain Sunday.

"I came here just hoping to do well and was more determined, especially in the first two rounds," he said. "You can't figure on winning because a lot of things have to go your way to win a tournament such as this. I thought 280 would win it, so I'm very happy to be three strokes lower."

Season Top Money Winner

Casper, who has won twice as many tournaments as anyone else on the tour this year, swept past idle Jack Nicklaus as the season's top money winner. He collected $32,000, boosting his 1970 earnings to $139,585.

Winner of six tournaments in 1968, Casper isn't ready for any vacation this year. After signing autographs for youngsters for more than an hour after his Avco victory, he looked ahead to the $300,000 Dow Jones starting Thursday.

"If I play the way I played today, I should do very well," he said. "I'd like to win another one before the year is out."

Day Off Needed

Casper carried a one-stroke lead into the final round. He started with a birdie 2 on the first hole and shook off all challenges, calmly pulling out of an 11-man log jam.

"It seemed every time some-

one came within one shot of me I made a birdie," Casper said. "I felt real good out there. That rain-out was a blessing in disguise. I hadn't had a day off in about 2½ months and I think it helped."

Tom Weiskopf, bitterly disappointed and Ron Funseth, tied for second at 280. Funseth had a final round 66 while Weiskopf, an eight-time contender without a victory this year, faded to a 71.

"When I learn to putt, I will beat anybody," Weiskopf said.

Trailing Weiskopf and Funseth, another stroke back, were five players—Charles Coody, Mac McLendon, Larry Hinson, Lou Graham and Larry Ziegler.

Dan Sikes, Dave Hill, John Schroeder and host pro Paul Harney were bracketed at 282. Gary Player finished with 283 despite a final round 67, while Dave Stockton, the newly crowned PGA champion, was far back in the field with 88.

Mantle Named Yankee Coach

CHICAGO, Ill. (AP)—Mickey Mantle, all-time great outfielder of the New York Yankees, will return to the club as a coach, it was announced by the Yankees over the weekend.

Mantle will join the club Sunday at Yankee Stadium when they play the Minnesota Twins.

Tigers Eye Second Place, Face Angels

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers can jump back into second place in the American League's East Division, when they meet the California Angels and their controversial Detroit native Alex Johnson in two games tonight.

Going into the contest, the Tigers were in third place, one-half game behind New York, but 12 games behind division leading Baltimore.

Joe Niekro and Les Cain were scheduled to take the mound for the Tigers. A lot of the spotlight will be on Johnson, who is batting .316 for the Angels. But Johnson still has had his troubles.

Alex grew up with Tiger great Willie Horton and both attended Northwestern High School in Detroit. Alex' brother, Ron Johnson, was a football star at the University of Michigan.

In the off season, Alex runs a trucking business in Detroit. Despite his standout ability, he remains a loner, which has tarnished his hero's halo somewhat for California.

Horton said of Johnson, "I don't understand Alex, and I've known him all my life. He's a funny guy. He doesn't like to joke around at all. He's all business. He wants to just do his job and leave it at that."

Horton said "He just doesn't want to bother with people—he doesn't want people to bother him."

Johnson bated around the .300 mark for Philadelphia for two seasons in the mid-1960s, but the Phillies traded him to

St. Louis. Two years ago, he was sent to Cincinnati and then ended up in California.

While other Angels run to the field when their names are announced, many times Johnson leisurely walks from the dug-out.

Horton said that "Alex would have been good at football, too, because he's so mean. In high school, the coaches were always afraid to say anything to him because they never knew how he'd respond."

Detroit Team Claims Amateur Baseball Crown

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Detroit became the first team in 15 years to win back-to-back championships in the All American Amateur Baseball Association limited division tournament when they squeaked past Washington, D.C., 8-7 Monday night.

The game was tied 7-7 in the 8th inning when Detroit outfielder James Hagan belted a single into center field, scoring Frank Ballard.

It was Detroit's fourth championship in seven tournament appearances.

The last team to hold consecutive titles in the AAABA was New Orleans in 1953-54 and 55.

Detroit pitcher Woody Mills went the distance Monday night, allowing 11 hits while striking out 11 batters. It was his second tournament victory.

Detroit watched a 7-3 lead go down the drain when in the 8th inning, Washington's Vince McGugan clouted an inside-the-park grand slam.

Detroit had only seven hits, but capitalized on six walks and six Washington errors.

A member of the Johnstown team, pitcher Gene Pentz, was voted the tournament's most valuable player. Pentz was credited with being one of the reasons the host team went further in this year's tournament than it has in the past dozen.

Johnstown was eliminated in the quarter finals Saturday.

Lions Prepare To Cut Squad

BLOOMFIELD HILLS (AP)—It's the crucial week for many players in the Detroit Lions summer training camp, as coaches must pare its present 63-member squad to 49 before Monday.

The cutback must be made by game time when the Lions meet the Philadelphia Eagles in a National Football League exhibition game.

Later, the Lions must reduce the squad to 40, before the NFL season starts.

General Manager Russ Thom as already has made a list putting players on waivers, but it was not made public. The Lions have a day for the waivers to clear and also an option on whether to change their mind.

Meanwhile, the Lions Monday added Bob Sherlag, 26, a free agent released on waivers from Green Bay, in hopes of filling a present gap on receivers. Additional help at pass catching is needed since Johnny Wright is out for the season and Earl McCulloch has been sidelined by injury for about a month.

Errol Mann, Detroit's place kicker, wore a cast on his left leg Monday, but said he hoped to be able to play in next Monday's game against Philadelphia.

"I got hit covering on a kickoff and a couple bones are kind of stretched apart," he said.

Hart, Levin, Kelley Blast Draft Dodge Amnesty Plan

DETROIT (AP)—Three prominent Michigan Democrats today blasted a controversial plank in the state party platform calling for amnesty for those who have dodged the draft by going to jail or leaving the country.

The plank, adopted at the Democratic state convention Sunday, had drawn a quick blast from Lenore Romney, Republican nominee for the U.S. Senate.

Blown Proposal
The unusual joint statement disavowing the platform proposal was issued by U.S. Sen. Philip Hart, Mrs. Romney's opponent in November; Democratic gubernatorial nominee Sen. Levin, and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

"We disagree with the amnesty resolution," the statement said, adding:

"Those who employ civil disobedience to protest a law or a war must stand ready to accept whatever punishment is provided by the legal code."

Committee Rejected Plan
"It should be pointed out that the amnesty resolution was rejected 18-1 in the convention resolutions committee and when it was later offered verbally on the floor, most delegates were preoccupied with candidate nominations."

The three Democrats said the Indonesian War itself is controversial, and pointed out that they all shared many objections to the conflict.

No Judgment Now
They added:

"When the conflict is over, some president observing the precedents of history may choose not to prosecute those who illegally sought to avoid service."

"But it is futile now to attempt judgment that cannot possibly be made until history has assembled all the facts and cooled all the passions. Moreover, condoning an illegal action on the part of some may encourage others to follow suit in the mistaken belief that eventual exoneration is a certainty."

The joint statement was issued simultaneously in Detroit, Lansing and Washington, D.C. Lenore Romney Plan is blasting the Democrats.

Mrs. Romney said that granting amnesty to those who have broken the law "is an outrage."

She said that the plank of the Michigan Democratic Party, which she said was more concerned with the rights of the conscientious objector than the rights of law-abiding citizens.

Judge's Ruling Ousts Sheriff, But Opponent May Never Serve

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A judge ruled Monday that Sheriff Petrie was ousted from office before his term expired in 1972.

The 62-year-old Petrie was ousted after a court order which said he was ineligible to serve.

1970 Auto Sales Continue To Skid

DETROIT (AP)—New car sales in the nation by domestic manufacturers declined 4.4 per cent in the first 10 days of August compared to last year.

By the Aug. 10-20 period, manufacturers sold 288,485 cars this year, compared to 300,397 in the same period last year.

General Corp. reported an eight per cent gain in the second 10 days in August, with sales of 57,500 compared to 54,000 last year.

American Motors Corp. also showed a four per cent increase, with sales of 5,800 this year compared to 5,577 last year.

General Motors Corp. reported a decline of 5.4 per cent in the Aug. 11-20 period, with sales of 100,400 this year compared with 106,300 last year.

Ford Motor Co. reported the largest decline with sales of 48,300 compared with 51,300 last year.

disqualified by canvassers, but should have been counted for Petrie.

The ruling by Circuit Court Judge Charles Wickens overturned the county canvassers' decision which gave the election to Petrie's opponent, Robert Curtis, 47, by less than 100 votes.

Petrie Pleased
"I'm just real happy, I think justice has finally been done," said Petrie, who also is juvenile officer for probate court in the northern Lower Michigan county.

However, he expected appeals could keep his opponent in office for sometime.

Curtis promised an appeal.

Gets U-M Post

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Appointment of law professor Robert Kanuse, 39, as vice president for student services has been announced by the University of Michigan, effective Sept. 15.

Kanuse succeeds Barbara Newell, who had been acting vice president since 1968 when she took leave from her position as an assistant to the president.

Kanuse, who was graduated from Harvard University, has been on the U-M faculty since 1966.

which must be started within 20 days, said county residents were raising funds to help him fight the ruling "to the U.S. Supreme Court," if necessary.

However, Curtis said, perhaps by then "it'll be time for another election."

Votes Changed Over

Petrie, who hopes the final appeal decision is made soon, was his committee Monday that the 120 write-in votes were for him, despite the fact that they bore only his last name.

Wickens' ruling gave Petrie the election by 34 votes.

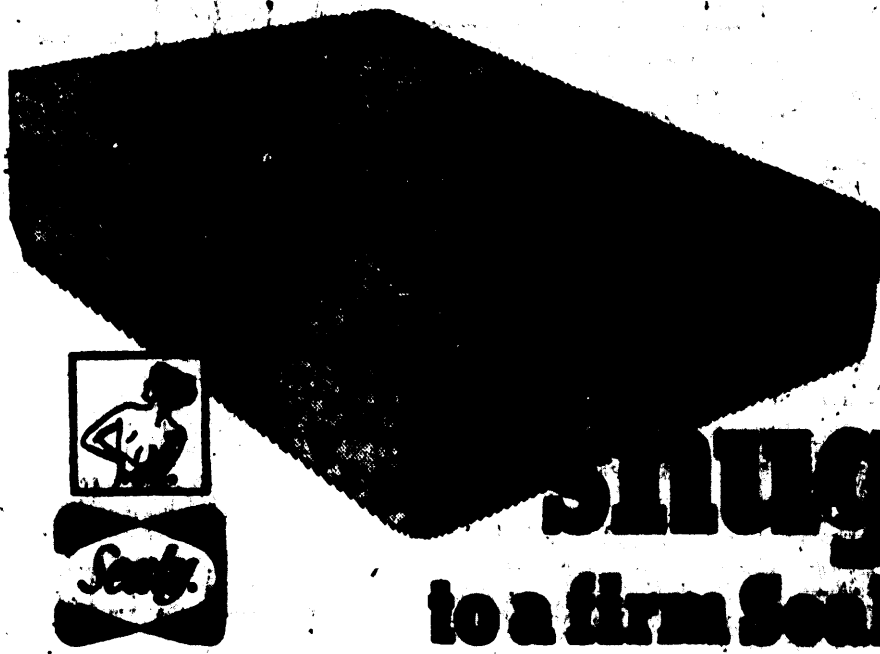

Curtis said, "We're appealing. The election has in the book say very clearly that where there are similar names in the county, they don't count."

Six With Same Name

He contended there are many persons named Petrie in Antrim County (population 10,272) and those writing in that name along might have been referring to any of them. Petrie said there were six others, and five of them were retired.

The judge, who said the date of Petrie taking office would be determined by the appeal, said the intent of the voters was clear and the votes should have for Petrie.

Curtis said the ruling did not worry him and added the salary is $8,500 annually "so it isn't very much to fight over."

Judge's Ruling Ousts Sheriff, But Opponent May Never Serve

BELLAIRE, Mich. (AP) —A judge ruled Monday Bryce Petrie was elected Antrim County sheriff in 1968, but he may not take office before his term expires in 1972.

The 45-year-old Petrie was named sheriff in court order Monday, which said 132 write-in ballots should not have been disqualified by canvassers, but should have been counted for Petrie.

The ruling by Circuit Court Judge Charles Wickens overturned the county canvassers' decision which gave the election to Petrie's opponent, Robert Curtis, 47, by less than 100 votes.

For the Aug. 11-20 period, automakers sold 191,432 cars this year, compared to 200,237 in the same period last year.

Chrysler Corp. reported an eight per cent gain in the second 10 days in August, with sales of 37,309 compared to 34,400 last year. American Motors Corp., also showed a four per cent increase, with sales of 5,466 this year compared to 5,277 last year.

General Motors Corp. reported a decline of 5.4 per cent in the Aug. 11-20 period, with sales of 105,228 this year compared with 105,228 last year. Ford Motor Co. reported the largest decline with sales of 48,218 compared with 55,332 last year.

Hart, Levin, Kelley Blast Draft Dodge Amnesty Plan

DETROIT (AP) —Three prominent Michigan Democrats joined Monday in repudiating a controversial plank in the state party platform calling for amnesty for those who have dodged the draft by going to jail or leaving the country.

The plank, adopted at the Democratic state convention Sunday, had drawn a quick blast from Lenore Romney, Republican nominee for the U.S. Senate.

Disown Proposal

The unusual joint statement disowning the platform proposal was issued by U.S. Sen. Philip Hart, Mrs. Romney's opponent in November; Democratic gubernatorial nominee Sander Levin, and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

"We disagree with the amnesty resolution," the statement said, adding:

"Those who employ civil disobedience to protest a law or a war must stand ready to accept whatever punishment is provided by the legal code."

Committee Rejected Plan

"It should be pointed out that the amnesty resolution was rejected 18-1 in the convention resolutions committee and when it was later offered verbally on the floor, most delegates were preoccupied with candidate nominations."

The three Democrats said the Indochina War itself is controversial, and pointed out that they all shared many objections to the conflict.

No Judgment Now

They added: "When the conflict is over, some president observing the precedents of history may choose not to prosecute those who illegally sought to avoid service."

"But it is futile now to attempt judgment that cannot possibly be made until history has assembled all the facts and cooled all the passions. Moreover, condoning an illegal action on the part of some may encourage others to follow suit in the mistaken belief that eventual exoneration is a certainty."

The joint statement was issued simultaneously in Detroit, Lansing and Washington, D.C. Lenore Rapped Plan In blasting the Democrats,

Mrs. Romney said that granting amnesty to those who have broken the law "is an arrogant act that typifies the philosophy of Sen. Hart and his fellow Democrats who are more concerned with the rights of the criminal and the accused than the rights of law-abiding citizens."

Republican State Chairman

William McLaughlin also criticized the Democrats.

"Ultra-liberalism, in the personages of Phil Hart and Sander Levin," he said, "reached new depths of disregard and disrespect for Americanism last weekend in Grand Rapids."

"To call for, as this resolution did, the protection of draft evaders while our fighting men bleed and die in the name of freedom for all is a new left position ever for this pair."

Trio Criticized

Rep. Jackie Vaughn III, D-Detroit, criticized Hart, Levin and Kelley for disassociating themselves from the amnesty resolution. "This measure was duly passed by a vote of the delegates present," he said. "Its purpose is to voice the party's concern over a criminal, unconstitutional war in a forceful, practical way. I voted for the amnesty resolution because I sincerely believe that the war is illegal. I am sorry that my party's candidates are afraid to take a truly meaningful stand against the war which they claim to deplore."
